B.C. Tories Meet Nov. 13

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Progressive Conservative Association's annual meeting will be held here Nov. 13, provincial leader Deane Finlayson said today.

Some 200 delegates from points throughout B.C. are expected to attend, he said.

Expected to highlight the meeting is the breach between provincial and federal Conservative groups in B.C.

"I'm sure there'll be discussion on the matter," said Mr. Finlayson. Executive of the B.C. association in July at Vernon voted no-confidence in national Tory leader George Drew.

Endorsement of this stand by the annual meeting will likely be asked.

Mr. Finlayson said he plans to put forward a program for reorganization of the party in B.C. that would include a membership drive.

French Design Cops Cesarwits Stakes

NEWMARKET, Eng. (CP)—French Design, a seven-year-old gelding, won the 113th running of the Cesarwits Stakes here today—on his fourth attempt.

Starting at 100 to 6 and ridden by Douglas Smith, French Design won an exciting race by three-quarters of a length from the 66-to-1 outsider Earlswood, with Mixed Vermouth, a 20-to-1 chance, two lengths farther away. Thirty-one horses started.

BRITISH TEAM SWAMPED

Russians Run Away With Track Meet

LONDON (AP)—Yuri Lituyev of Russia broke the world record for the 440-yard dash tonight as Russia piled up a large lead in the Moscow vs. London track and field meet before 40,000 fans at White City Stadium.

Lituyev time was 51.3 seconds.

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union track and field team quickly began piling up tonight a substantial lead in its Moscow vs. London floodlit track and field meet before a crowd of 40,000 at the White City Stadium.

At the request of the Russian visitors a parade of athletes took place in the centre of the arena and in an exchange of greetings a woman spokesman for the Russians gave a call of "long live peace among the peoples of the world."

Then the Russians rushed over and handed large bouquets of flowers to the London squad.

This was the first visit of a Russian track and field team to Britain.

The Russian men easily captured the first four events—discus, high jump, hammer and 110-metre high hurdles. They placed first and second in all but the hurdles.

In the women's events Moscow took first and second in the javelin and 100 metres, but British and European champion broke the Russian monopoly by defeating Alexandra Chudina of Russia.

The visitors came back and took the 80-metre women's hurdles.

Martin Tells UN Best Solution Is Private Reconciliation Talks

By WILLIAM HARCOURT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada today proposed that the five atomic powers reconvene in an effort to reconcile conflicting proposals for world disarmament. Health Minister Paul Martin called on Britain, the United States, France and the Soviet Union to meet again with Canada to "seek in private an acceptable solution" on disarmament.

These same powers met privately in London last June and evolved the Anglo-French disarmament plan, upon which a proposed Russian disarmament treaty is based.

After Martin spoke, representatives of Britain, the United States and France announced their willingness to co-sponsor the Canadian resolution.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, the Russian delegate, thanked Martin for providing him with an advance text of the resolution but said that a concrete answer to the proposal would have to wait until he had more time to study it.

"The Soviet Union in principle takes a sympathetic view towards such resolutions," Vishinsky said.

Martin spoke before the assembly's 60-nation political committee, now debating the Soviet proposals.

"If we are to have serious and informal examination of the Anglo-French and the Soviet proposals and all other proposals which have been or may be submitted, then I think we must all agree that... there should be an early opportunity for examination of the problem by a smaller group," he said.

Martin tabled a resolution which took notice of the disarmament commission report and the Soviet draft resolution, and concluded that a "further effort should be made to reach agreement on comprehensive and co-ordinated proposals to be embodied in a draft international disarmament convention."

RUSSIAN PLAN TO GET STUDY

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The United States supported by its western allies planned today to propose sending Russia's latest plan for world arms reduction to a five-nation subcommittee of the United Nations disarmament commission for private discussion.

400 HAITIANS KILLED BY HURRICANE

Bahamas Appear Next in Line

From AP and UP Dispatches

Hurricane Hazel moved toward the Southeast Bahamas today after killing more than 400 persons and injuring hundreds of others in a devastating path it cut across the island of Haiti.

At Aux Cayes, major town (pop. 20,000) on Haiti's south-west peninsula, unofficial reports indicated 200 persons dead, 350 injured and 800 homeless.

The nearby town of Jeremie was almost totally destroyed. The toll of dead and injured there amounted to 200.

Jeremie's prison hospital was swept away. Homes of nuns and priests were washed into the sea. Most of the town's smaller homes were flattened by huge waves.

The hurricane lost some of its force over Haiti but weather observers warned the force of the blow might build up again over open water. The Bahamas Islands battered down as far north as Nassau.

$20,000 Fire In Kimberley Business Area

KIMBERLEY (CP)—Fire believed started by hot ashes in a cafe early Tuesday caused damage estimated at $20,000 in a downtown business block here.

The blaze started in the Elite Cafe, burning out the back of the building and upstairs rooms, and spread to adjoining Faulds Block.

Firemen helped remove some persons sleeping in rooms above the cafe and others were awakened by the cafe owner.

Five other business places were damaged, all being gutted at the rear. Stock and equipment was damaged by smoke and water.

Cousin Acts as Margaret's Escort At Comic Opera

LONDON (Reuters)—Princess Margaret, just back from her vacation in the Scottish highlands, has already entered the winter social whirl—with her cousin, the Earl of Granville, as one of her partners.

Tuesday night the Princess and Granville attended a performance of the comic opera, "The Duenna." Although it was a chilly night, the Princess, protected by a silver mink wrap, wore a ballerina-length summer dress.

The earl, 35, one of the town's most eligible bachelors, is Margaret's first cousin. As a member of the family he has long escorted the Princess to the theatre and parties.

Marcel Theoret Named Secretary to Pinard

OTTAWA (BUP)—Marcel Theoret, former Montreal newspaperman and radio writer, today was named private secretary and executive assistant to Secretary of State Roch Pinard.

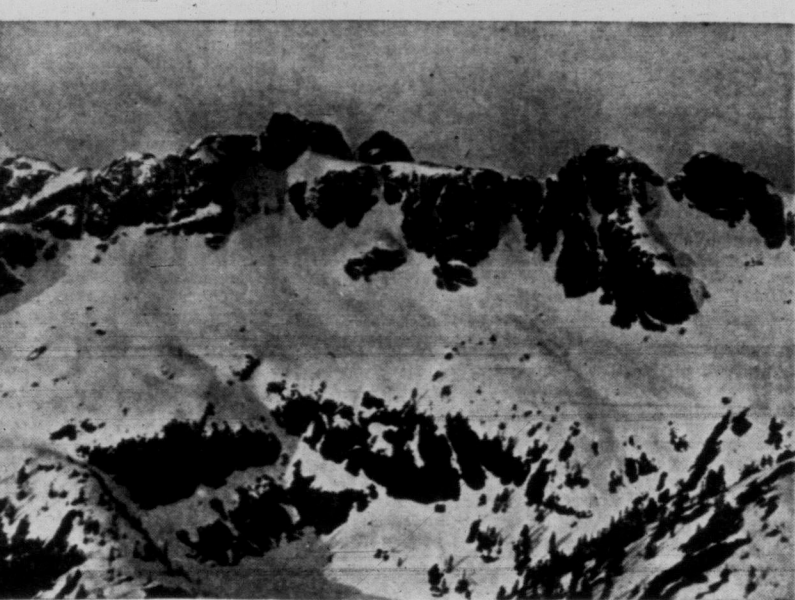

Theoret, a native of Beauharnois, Que., and a graduate of the University of Montreal, has been director of French publications for the Ford Motor Company of Canada for the last four years. He also served as a member of the Faculty of Assumption University in Windsor.

He was formerly employed by La Presse in Montreal and as director of publicity for radio station CKDA in Montreal.

It was two days after the tragedy that police revealed the dead man had a bullet in his spine from a .22 rifle.

Police said that an RCMP autopsy showed the bullet in Nelson's body had pierced his lung before striking the spine. Two .22 calibre rifles were examined. One was unfired, the other had a single empty cartridge. It was not disclosed who owned the guns.

Plane, 4 Bodies Found on Mountain

Where Four Met Death in Crash

Harsh slopes of 5,962-foot Mt. Arrowsmith, 100 miles north of here, have claimed bodies of four aboard RCAF Expediter which crashed on east slope at 5,100-foot level Sunday. Wreckage covered wide area of rough terrain. Bodies will be brought out via helicopter today.

MOOSE JAW CRASH

TCA Faces Suit for $4 Million

OTTAWA (BUP)—Claims totaling some $4,000,000 have been filed against the Crown as a result of last April's crash of a Trans-Canada Airlines' North Star near Moose Jaw, Sask., Exchequer Court officials said today.

The 19 claims filed, they said, ranged from $50,000 to "several hundred thousand". The amounts sought were probably based on the number of dependents involved.

It was not yet known whether the Crown planned to put up any defense against the claims.

The crash occurred April 8 and was the worst in TCA's history. Four crew members and 31 passengers, including Progressive Conservative M.P. Rodney Adamson, of Toronto, died when the North Star and an RCAF training plane collided and exploded in the air about midday.

Searchers Find Wreck At 5,100 Ft.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES
PARKSVILLE — Four men missing in an RCAF Expediter since Sunday were found dead today in wreckage on Mount Arrowsmith. The bodies are being brought out by helicopter.

The plane, scattered over a wide area on the east slope of the 5,962-foot mountain, was sighted this morning by a ground party at 10:45 a.m.

It was found by a five-man ground party of the alpine division of the mountain emergency squad from Vancouver, a civilian volunteer group of climbers, led by Ulf Butterlich of Port Alberni and brother Adolph of Victoria. They were dropped atop the mountain by helicopter early this morning.

The crash site was near where the brothers, climbing the mountain Sunday, reported they heard what they thought was a plane in trouble.

IDENTIFIED

The ground party which found the wreckage contacted a helicopter by walkie-talkie, and positive identification was made of the twin-engine plane at the RCAF base at Comox.

The scattered plane was found in an area which had been flown over dozens of times during the 200 air-search-hours by the RCAF in the course of the three-day hunt. It was partially buried in snow.

The Expediter last radioed in at 1:38 p.m. Sunday 6,500 feet over Lantzville while on a routine flight between Vancouver and Tofino. An RCAF spokesman said it must have struck the slopes of Mount Arrowsmith about 15 minutes later.

ICING

He said the fast drop in altitude during the short run could have been caused by icing of the plane as weather was bad at the time. Another 900 feet in altitude and the plane would have cleared the mountain.

The alpine party was standing by at the crash site and RCAF officials were being flown in to the scene. It is likely bodies will be brought out today.

Bodies when brought out likely will be taken to Parksville. The district coroner has already been notified.

The crash will be investigated by the RCAF's accident investigation branch, but it is still too early to determine when hearings must visit the scene first.

EXPERIENCED MEN

The Bitterlich brothers, experienced climbers, have ascended Mt. Arrowsmith as many as 40 times. They were both hiking at the 5,500-foot level Sunday afternoon when they found a plane motor "run" up and then cut out. With them was Fred Zochling, 684 Burnside Road, who described the engine note as "uneven... a rising and falling sound... then a deep drop in the sound... then nothing." They heard no crash or explosion.

Dead are FO L. E. Oppenheimer, 24, of Winnipeg, pilot of the plane whose wife lives in Vancouver; Sqdn. Ldr. B. G. Stibbards, RCAF chaplain at RCAF headquarters in Vancouver; FO Michael Saunders, 22, of Bristol, England, and R. D. Hall, an engineer, of Beau Repaire, near Montreal.

misconstrued. He said he never found Wilson "indifferent to human misfortune."

Rep. Samuel Yorty (D., Cal.), a candidate for the Senate, sent a telegram to Mr. Eisenhower demanding Wilson's removal. Yorty said "his invidious comparisons of American citizens with dogs is so revolting that it reminds one of the Divine right of tyrant kings during the Dark Ages of human slavery."

Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) also demanded Wilson's ouster. He said if his "understanding of Mr. Wilson's statement is accurate, he missed a fine opportunity to keep a civil foot in his mouth."

Wilson was defended by John Peikens, chairman of the Michigan GOP state central committee, who said he would match the defense secretary's concern for the jobs against Reuther's anytime. He named the Democratic charges "sheerest demagoguery."

London Dock Strike Spreads to Glasgow

LONDON (CP)—Britain's mushrooming dock strike spread to Southampton and Glasgow today, even as a busmen's walkout threw London's surface transport into chaos.

More than 2,000 Southampton longshoremen downed tools in a one-day token stoppage supporting 30,000 men already out in London. And about 1,000 Glasgow dockers staged a lightening strike following a local dispute over pay rates for handling dirty cargo.

The London waterfront stoppage became virtually complete with 2,500 men joining the strike at Tilbury, deep-water port down the Thames from London.

Meanwhile millions of Londoners, deprived Monday of their daily papers by a one-day printers' strike, found their bus service disrupted today.

Nearly 1,200 of the capital's 7,600 double-deck buses and trolley buses were idle after 5,500 conductors and drivers walked off the job in a dispute over new schedules.

The bus strike left 30 of approximately 200 bus routes without transport, and 33 more under-manned. Transport officials feared it might spread to more of the capital's 45,000 operators during the day.

The bus men are protesting new emergency schedules introduced to improve services already depleted by a union ban on overtime, part of a campaign for a raise in wages that now average between £8 and £9 weekly. The strike lacks official union approval.

The waterfront strike, now in its 10th day, involves more than 20,000 dockers and 8,000 ship repair men in a variety of disputes. They may be joined at the week-end by 4,500 tug and barge men now considering a strike call from their union leaders.

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's defense of Charles E. Wilson and the cabinet official's own statement that his "bird dog-kennel dog" remark on unemployment had been "distorted" failed to satisfy Democrats today.

There was a swelling chorus of condemnation of the defense secretary from Democrats across the country. Several demanded that Wilson apologize or be fired.

Some Republicans fell in line with Mr. Eisenhower in defense.

Strike-Bound Ford Moves HQ to Toronto

Move Possibly Effective Thursday; Staying Away From Windsor for Strike Duration

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The top policy makers of the strike-bound Ford Motor Company of Canada plant here will shift their headquarters to Toronto, it was announced Tuesday night.

A company spokesman said in a press conference the move would be effective by Thursday.

18 Arrested For Smuggling Cigarettes

THETFORD MINES, Que. (CP)—Eighteen suspects in an alleged multi-million-dollar smuggling ring were arraigned here Tuesday on charges of conspiring to import, receive and possess U.S. cigarettes, margarine and other merchandise.

Three of the men pleaded guilty, including Roland Mathieu of Beauveville, Que., who was sentenced to one year in jail. Andre Gagnon of Thetford Mines, Que., and Clement Paquette of East Hereford, Que., were remanded to Dec. 9 for sentence.

The other 15 pleaded not guilty and were ordered to appear for preliminary hearing Nov. 8. They were released on bail of $900 each.

The men, all from Quebec, were arrested last week-end in a series of raids by the RCMP. They brought to 47 the number taken into custody since the RCMP began raids two weeks ago.

RCMP spokesmen said five gangs involved in the smuggling have netted some $9,000,000 during the last 15 months and have deprived the federal and provincial governments of $20,000,000 in taxes.

Two Victorians Re-Elected by B.C. Carpenters

E. T. Staley and Ernest Oliver of Victoria and James Trebett of Alberni were re-elected to office when delegates to the B.C. Council of Carpenters and Joiners (AFL-TLC) in convention in Vancouver chose 1954-55 officers Tuesday.

The council elected George Bengough of Vancouver president and Jack Moberley of Kamloops vice-president. Mr. Staley was returned as secretary-treasurer.

Zone executive members elected were: Mr. Oliver, Vancouver Island southern section; Mr. Trebett, Island northern section; J. Black, Prince Rupert, northern B.C. and the Yukon, and Mark Miller of Kimberley, the Kootenays.

Pearl Harbor Day Hero Loses His Life While Testing Jet

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP)—Quiet, soft-spoken George Welch, Second World War triple ace who shot down four Japanese planes at Pearl Harbor, lost his life Tuesday while testing a jet plane high above the Mojave Desert.

Just what happened to his F-100 jet Super Sabre isn't known. Witnesses said it exploded with a terrific blast and plummeted to the ground like a ball of fire. But officials at North American Aviation Inc., where Welch was chief test pilot, said the blast might have been a "sonic boom" caused when a jet pulls out of a dive at high speed.

DEAD ON ARRIVAL

Welch, 36, managed to eject himself from the plane and parachuted, landing about two miles from where his plane crashed. But he was suffering from multiple injuries and was dead on arrival by helicopter at Edwards Air Force Base.

The plane crashed about 45 miles north of Los Angeles. When the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, Welch, then a 23-year-old second lieutenant, became a national hero. He drove 10 miles from bombed-out Wheeler Field to an auxiliary field, commandeered a P-40, took to the air and shot down four Japanese planes before he was forced to land his bullet-riddled ship. Only five other American pilots were able to get into the air that day against the enemy.

The spokesman said the reason for the move was to give top management a chance to organize its executive duties, which extend "far beyond the strike situation."

The company spokesman said the negotiating committee, part of which would be moved to Toronto, would be ready to resume talks with Local 200, United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL), on 24 hours notice. Picketing at the 22 gates leading into the huge automotive plant continued peacefully today, although the company charged that a number of office supervisors had been turned aside by the picket lines Tuesday.

Union officials denied any knowledge of the incident, but said if it did happen, it was a mistake. They said picketers had been told to let all office workers, power house operators and hospital personnel through the lines. Maintenance men were also allowed to enter the plant, although there was some delay in issuing them union passes.

MEMBERSHIP MEETING
About 4,000 workers attended a membership meeting Tuesday, in which Charles McDonald, president of Local 200, asked for a vote of support for the executive's action in calling the strike.

Union officials said the support was given without a dissenting voice being raised. At the membership meeting, Mayor Arthur Reaume said he will propose to city council establishment of a commission to investigate "bad blood" between company and union.

The major issues are a union demand for a four-cent hourly increase in pay, city and Blue Cross health plans, and application of the "willing and able" clause in relation to seniority in job transfers and layoffs.

The company has not accepted any of these. The average wage at the Windsor plant is $1.69 an hour.

Labor Group Merger Proposed in Manitoba

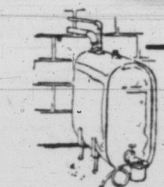

WINNIPEG (BUP)—The Winnipeg Labor Council last night all but unanimously passed a resolution urging a united labor front in Manitoba. The resolution introduced by Murray Cotterill, western representative of the United Steelworkers Union, suggested that the CCL and the TLC get together to form a United Manitoba Federation of Labor, which both the CCL and TLC labor organizations could join.

Alberta Cities Vote

EDMONTON (BUP)—Residents of the seven cities in Alberta went to the polls today to elect aldermen and school board members and give their opinions on civic questions. No mayoralty contests were scheduled.

Eighteen candidates were running for five seats on the Edmonton city council; 11 candidates were in the field for six vacancies on the Calgary council; six candidates were contesting three Drumheller city council seats, and there were nine candidates for four Medicine Hat aldermanic posts.

Compulsion To Be Target Of Unionists

Resolutions on unemployment and opposition to compulsory arbitration are the chief matters to be presented by 15 Victoria delegates at the annual B.C. Trade Union Congress (AFL-TLC) that opened today in Vancouver.

About 225 delegates representing 103 locals throughout the province are attending.

The Victoria group will ask the council to take action with federal departments to discourage the practice of fully-employed workers doing extra work that is required by the unemployed. They will also strongly reiterate their opposition to compulsory arbitration which the federal government ordered to avert a nation-wide strike of the railway union workers.

It is the second annual meeting of the 50,000-member congress. Target of sharp criticism from members will be the province's controversial new Labor Relations Act. Of 72 resolutions drawn up for the three-day meeting, eight deal with the new act.

The congress has invited the administrator of the act, Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, to address the convention.

Sapling Kills Island Logger; Inquiry Called

CAMPBELL RIVER—An inquiry will be held here Thursday into the death of Wesley Brooks, 67, employee of the Leber Pole and Piling Company, Thursday Island, who was killed at his work Tuesday when struck by a sapling.

There were no witnesses. A companion said he had turned away from where Brooks was working, and when he turned back the man was lying dead under the sapling.

Gordon Ash Elected By Rabbit Fanciers

Gordon Ash, a leading Victoria rabbit breeder, was elected president of the Vancouver Island Rabbit Breeders' Association at an annual meeting Tuesday.

Other officers elected were: Stanley Hunt, a wholesale rabbit-meat buyer and breeder of New Zealand Whites; Mrs. A. R. Merriman, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Alex Walker, recording secretary; Mrs. E. Grossi, Miss P. M. Baker, Mrs. Gordon Ash and Mrs. Willie Christie, executives.

Chiang, Robertson Meet On U.S.-Formosa Action

Assistant to Dulles Believed Advocating Easing of Tension

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson met three times today with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek against a somber background of threatened invasion and new Communist efforts to wreck the American position in Asia.

American and Chinese Nationalist officials were unusually reticent about the Robertson visit, which is due to end when he leaves by plane Thursday.

Official quarters described the Robertson-Chiang talks as concerned with "problems of mutual interest." They would only repeat a Washington announcement that the assistant secretary had flown here to discuss future U.S. aid to Formosa.

SPECULATION
But unofficial speculation centered on the belief that Robertson was here on a trouble-shooting mission. He was reported attempting to get Chiang's concurrence in a policy of holding the fighting along the China coast to a limited scale.

Fighting flared intensely along the coast after the Communist shelled Nationalist-held Quemoy Island on Sept. 3. Nationalist planes and ships lashed back with fierce attacks on Red positions, and the battle swelled to alarming proportions.

These attacks suddenly halted 10 days ago. There were reports the United States had advised the Nationalists to ease off.

This reported policy brought angry protests locally that a new "Yalu sanctuary" situation was being built up. It was argued this would allow the Communists to build up for an invasion of Formosa without hindrance from National forces.

NEW DUELS
As if to underscore this belief, there were new artillery duels at both ends of the Nationalists' 300-mile chain of island outposts today and new reports of Communist naval build-ups at Shanghai and the Chusan Islands.

The ministry of national defense announced that Communist guns dropped barrages on three small islands surrounding Quemoy. Nationalist batteries on Quemoy returned the Red fire, shelling Communist gun positions around the port city of Amoy.

Some 300 miles to the north, Red artillery fell on Tumen Island. In return, Nationalist big guns shelled Yichangshan, a recently-reinforced nearby island. The Taitao news agency remove south for an invasion. Taito reported there were some 50 gunboats of about 500 tons each and 150 large motorized junks capable of carrying troops.

Earlier, the official Central news agency had reported some 300 additional junks in the Chusan Islands. It said all indications pointed to an attempt by the Reds to storm Tachen Island at the northern end of the outpost chain.

Mayor Lashes Ottawa for CD 'Failure'

Demands Power to Act at Civic Level; Peachey Replaces Fired CD Director

"Civil defense, as now operated, isn't worth a damn," Victoria's mayor said Tuesday afternoon when demanding that Ottawa give local CD authorities martial-law and other powers to combat an emergency due to enemy action.

The mayor was speaking at a public meeting of Civil Defense Control Board. Present were representatives of all sections of the Greater Victoria "target area."

The session confirmed last week's dismissal of CD director L. G. Hatcher and four of his five-person staff. Roger Peachey, retired chief of the now-defunct B.C. Police, was named CD director, temporarily. Re-emphasized were earlier statements the dismissal of Mr. Hatcher and his subordinates was designed chiefly to stir Ottawa into action along lines desired by local CD controllers.

Intends to 'Make Ottawa Listen'

The mayor charged Ottawa has withheld power for municipal authorities to act swiftly and effectively in an emergency. "We either face a disaster of magnitude from an enemy country or countries . . . or we do not," the mayor said. "If this emergency is so serious . . . we must now make full provision to defend every part of Canada to the utmost. In other words, all these (needed) powers must become immediately operative upon the first alert of an enemy action."

The mayor is chairman of the CD local board of control.

Elsewhere in his remarks he stressed "We have no intention to scrap CD; we just want to forcibly present our stand so Ottawa will listen to us."

This viewpoint was underlined when the control board unanimously voted to ask for an early conference with provincial and federal CD chiefs.

Presumably this meeting would be used to hammer home the Victoria CD board's arguments.

The board also decided immediately to give Director Hatcher his pay up to November 30. Appointment of Mr. Peachey was proposed by Saanich councillor George Austin and it was emphasized he would be in charge of CD here until the local picture and program are clarified. He accepted last evening, and said training classes, as already constituted under Mr. Hatcher's administration, would be continued.

In a prepared statement to his control-board colleagues, Victoria's mayor was critical of the government's failure to put "teeth" into Canada's CD program at the municipal level.

In the Soup While Ottawa Dithers

"We shouldn't wait for an emergency to strike before clearing the way for fast action," he declared.

He said the federal government has on its statute books the authority to grant emergency powers. "But it can only be done by order-in-council and you know how long it takes to go through those motions. In the meantime we will be in the soup."

"We've got to have a club on hand we can immediately use in an emergency. If the government doesn't want to hand martial law over to the militia, it should delegate those powers to us," the mayor asserted.

He recalled that it was at Victoria's insistence that Ottawa had allowed the use of a warning signal—the "yellow"—to alert everyone that an enemy was approaching.

He also recalled the effectiveness of martial law during the San Francisco fire a half century ago. During the fire, he said, it had been necessary to "shoot a small number" to establish order.

"We don't want to shoot anybody, but we want to be in a position to do something if an emergency arises here," the mayor said.

During the hour-long meeting the dismissed director, Mr. Hatcher, apologized to Mr. Austin for a statement to the press last week in which he charged Mr. Austin with "cowardice." Mr. Hatcher said he did not intend his remark to be interpreted in a personal way, as it had been.

CD Fuss Is B.C.'s Business Says Maj.-Gen. Worthington

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Small civil defense test evacuations to develop techniques for speedily emptying areas threatened by atomic attack are being run off prior to attempts to conduct larger scale tests in Vancouver or Winnipeg, Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, federal civil defense chief, said Tuesday.

A test evacuation involving a relatively small area had been carried out at St. John's, New Foundland, last month. Thursday another small test will be conducted at Brockville, Ont.

"These are small operations but they are essential to try and work out the bugs and kinks that can develop in any evacuation test," said Gen. Worthington.

He declined further comment on the dismissal of the civil defense administration at Victoria. This is a matter to be taken up with provincial authorities in British Columbia. The federal civil defense authorities do not deal directly with municipal authorities but work through the province, he said. This is in line with articles contained in the British North American Act.

The same comment he said would apply to criticism voiced by Winnipeg civil defense authorities. Over the week-end, some members of the Greater Winnipeg civil defense board had criticized federal civil defense authorities for not consulting with the Winnipeg civil defense people before publicizing possible test evacuations for Manitoba's capital.

One member (Ald. Gordon Fines) was in favor of disbanding the Winnipeg organization entirely. He said it was "a waste of effort unless we get more support from the senior government." Other members were not so critical, but wanted bridges built to help speed evacuation. Gen. Worthington said that did not come under civil defense.

2,800 Deaths Charged To Red Guerilla Chief

SEOUL (UP)—A Communist guerrilla leader blamed for the deaths of 2,800 Koreans went on trial for his life before a military court today in this country's first war crimes trial.

Ha Joon Soo, 34, alias "Lieut. Gen. Nam do Bu," admitted his responsibility for the multiple murders but insisted he should be treated as a prisoner of war. Four co-defendants, including a 24-year-old Communist nurse, pleaded for clemency.

DUTCH TRAIN CRASH KILLS 6, INJURES 15

ELST, The Netherlands (AP)—A speeding diesel express crashed into a commuters' train here today. At least six persons were killed and 15 injured. Among the dead was the engineer of the express.

Rescue workers searched the wreckage for other possible victims.

Those severely injured were taken to hospitals in Arnhem and Nijmegen. Local doctors treated those with minor injuries.

The crash was the first major disaster on The Netherlands' government-owned railway since the war.

Let's Look at Our Schools Now

LAST WEEK THE GREATER Victoria School Board formally opened its biggest new building in recent years, and its most expensive. Central Junior High, which includes about 30 classrooms, cost $910,000.

In another month the smaller and less costly Lansdowne Junior High will be open for public inspection during similar ceremonies.

By means of these events, the board affords the public an opportunity to see what it is getting for its educational tax money in the way of physical facilities. At the same time, the board members show the efforts they are putting forth to meet the accommodation needs of a swelling student population.

This point should impress visitors as they inspect the new schools. It is one the trustees expect them to keep in mind when they are asked again in December to support a school building by-law that will probably call for roughly $3,300,000, half of which will be underwritten by the province.

The new structures are required to relieve congestion in general and particularly to overcome the necessity for shift systems operating in 10 classrooms shared by some 400 pupils.

The by-law will be drafted to cover construction of new elementary schools, additions to some already built and possibly a new junior high school in the Colquitz area.

The need for more schools is apparent merely on the basis of simple arithmetic. The student population of Greater Victoria has been rising by about 1,000 a year for the last few years. In October, 1953, the total stood at 13,955. At the beginning of this month it was 14,980. And that growth will continue for some time.

It will express itself in further expense to the taxpayer in the next 10 years as the children now flooding into elementary schools move on to the secondary schools. According to estimates of the Canadian Education Association, the high school enrolment in Canada by 1964 will be approximately double what it is today.

This is part of the picture of rising educational costs. They will be further increased as Greater Victoria replaces old buildings that are obsolete and as staffs expand to preside over more classrooms.

Regardless of the manner in which those charges are divided by any educational finance formula, they will have to be met by the taxpayers. Possibly the load will not be as great as it appears in total figures, because it will be carried by more taxpayers—the newcomers and the young parents whose children are making their demands for space.

Under these circumstances some outcry will arise from property owners who feel the burden of taxation for schools is too much. That was not the determining factor when the by-law was turned down last December. On that occasion certain legal technicalities existed which moved voters to reject the issue. Those technical obstructions have now been removed.

There is still, however, a wide section of the community which expresses opposition to what it calls frills in the new schools. Building and grounds officials as well as school architects have logical answers for any questions raised on that issue. They are in a position, incidentally, to cite economies here which are not possible, or are not practiced, in other parts of the nation, and they can point with considerable pride to the fact that costs per foot—varying according to municipalities and their respective building codes in Greater Victoria—are below those of schools widely publicized as examples of economic construction in the United States.

Because the program before the school board—and the taxpayers—is of major proportions, and because there is no indication at present of any let-up in the demand for schools, it might be wise for all taxpayers to familiarize themselves with the details of the projected building schedule.

In less than two months they will be asked again to endorse a multi-million dollar by-law. They should know before the second Thursday in December what the money they pledge should buy, and whether or not what they call frills are actually non-essentials or are necessary adjuncts of the present-day school.

Information on that point is very definitely their business. It is the business, too, of the young generation entering school and future generations to follow it. At Central Junior High and at Lansdowne the public has samples of the schools considered desirable for current educational practice. If critics find objectionable features in them now is the time to voice their protests. The by-law should not be placed in jeopardy by last-minute fault-finding which leaves no time for explanation and rebuttal.

First Round to Mendes-France

WITH PREMIER MENDES-France's victory in the National Assembly yesterday a major barrier to West German rearmament was surmounted. The French Government was given a substantial majority in a vote of confidence based on its foreign policy—specifically its support of the treaty recently initiated in London.

This is not to say that the settlement is now assured of success. The major debate on the provisions of the London agreement is still to come before official ratification. But if the Premier can retain the support of the 104 Socialist votes which yesterday endorsed his stand he should be able to overcome the still strong opposition to rearmament of West Germany.

Many of the deputies who voted "yes" yesterday said they did so reluctantly. There is still marked aversion in France to any plan that will place arms in the hands of the Germans and return full sovereignty to the former enemy country.

The alternatives to the London treaty, however, are sufficiently serious to discourage any quick rejection. Apart from the plight of unpreparedness in which further delay will place western European defense, the threat that the United States will withdraw its troops from the continent is a serious one. It could presage a whole new policy of U.S. isolationism.

One of France's chief objections to German rearmament has been counterbalanced by Britain's undertaking to keep troops in Europe for an indefinite period, thus maintaining a balance of power between France and Germany. This will be a strong card in Premier Mendes-France's hand in the forthcoming crucial debate. He has expressed confidence in his ability to gain parliamentary assent, and yesterday's preliminary result does much to confirm his optimism.

Experts on B.C.'s Pocketbook

SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE week representatives of Canadian Institute of Forestry sections from all parts of the nation have been guests on Vancouver Island. Today they opened the business sessions of their annual meeting in Victoria, following field trips to other parts of the Island.

It is entirely fitting that these men, from industry and government, should be gathered here to discuss sustained yield forestry as a business enterprise. British Columbia has been working toward sustained yield for a number of years. The need for such a policy has been emphasized over and over again in the province. It is the central theme around which Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan wove his impressive report less than 10 years ago, and it is the guiding principle recognized by the people of B.C. who know that half their wealth comes from the woods.

At their annual meeting here, the Canadian Institute of Forestry is engaged in some of the more technical factors concerned with sustained yield forestry. It has heard panel discussions on markets and on business management. It will concern itself further with measures to ensure a continuous usable supply of wood, dealing not only with the establishment of a forest crop, but its protection. Study will also be given to improvement in the quality and quantity of forest production and to the government's responsibility in the field.

As the various panels proceed with their work it is to be expected that some difference of opinion may arise among the foresters. That is natural. But differences, it is safe to say, will concern themselves with the means by which sustained yield can be best practiced.

From talks and reports an expanded body of information on forestry should arise. It, in turn, may stimulate further legislation to protect British Columbia's vital asset.

Assembled are the specialists in different phases of the forest industries. They are welcomed as Victoria's guest with more than the ordinary expressions of hospitality. Their business is the business of every person in British Columbia, since the fruits of their labors mean protection for the dollars and cents in the citizen's pocket.

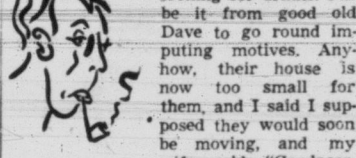

Sideline Quarterback

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I KNOW a married couple who have the habit of dropping in on their friends and neighbors between tea and dinner. They are the most social pair in the world, and really enjoy human society, yet a cynic might suspect them of looking for drinks. Far be it from good-old Dave to go round imposing motives. Anyhow, their house is now too small for them, and I said I supposed they would soon be moving, and my wife said: "Goodness, that wouldn't be very businesslike. It's taken them two years to establish their drink-route." It would not be charitable of me to print this if they were neighbors of mine and we were on their route. But we don't take from them.

Brook
MICE AND MEN
A YOUNG friend of mine tells me his white mice are still confused by the change from Daylight Time to Standard Time. He says he is glad he doesn't have to milk them. So am I! I shouldn't imagine there'd be much profit in a milk route selling mouse milk anyhow, except maybe as a novelty. A better way to make a living out of mouse milk would be to set up a mouse milk marketing board and get a job on that.

MORE ROUTES
TILL talking of routes, and of boys, and of "Business Is Business," I was talking to a boy I know over on the mainland, and I was amused to hear he is now a newspaper carrier. I said, "That's odd, I thought your father had a private war with that particular paper, and thinks of it as the plague." The boy said "Oh yes, but we're immune. I'm just what the doctors call a carrier." I suspect his father of stimulating this persiflage.

THE FRUITFUL VINE
SPEAKING of cats reminds me of dogs, and speaking of dogs reminds me of girls. I know two little girls who have just joined a girls' organization and they have been asked to memorize a little jingle about their duty. They promise to be:
Trusty, loyal, helpful, sisterly,
Courteous and kind,
Obedient, smiling, thrifty,
Pure as the rustling vine.

And of course those are good things to be, if you can make it. And if you can remember. But that bit about the rustling vine puzzled me considerably. Obviously, it was put in as a half-rhyme for "kind." But why vines in general and rustling ones in particular? I am familiar with cattle rustlers, but not vine rustlers. Oh well, the phrase "Pure as the rustling vine" goes very nicely to the tune of "By the light of the silvery moon." And poetry doesn't have to mean anything, though promises are not commonly set to music and usually mean something. Something at the time, you understand, if not later.

MNEMONICS
YOU shouldn't really poke fun at any mnemonic, which is a rhyme to aid your memory. It helps you to remember, it has served its purpose. Though it is often the devil of a job to forget it again. Years and years ago Dr. Gogarty told a joke about a medical student's rhyme about diet for invalids. When the man is getting better you progress from each of these foods to the next:

Fluid, farinaceous, fish,
Then some chicken in a dish,
Then to mutton, then to beef,
Then from all rules get relief.

One of the students at Dublin was asked what to try on a certain convalescent, and he yelled "Some chicken in a dish!" which astounded the professor. Well, the ideas expressed in that rhyme are now out of date. We agree today that lean beef, for example, would be more easily digested than most bread-stuffs, farinaceous though they be. But do you think I can forget that wretched jingle? Not on your life. It has been clattering around my brain for about 14 years now. And it's just getting into its stride, too.

THERE are other mnemonics, however. I will continue to comfort and sustain me through life. Such as those sailors' rhymes about the Rule of the Road for Steamships:
When all three lights I see ahead
I port my helm and show my red.
Green to green, or red to red,
Perfect safety, go ahead.

If to my starboard red appear
It is my duty to keep clear;
To act as judgment says is proper:
To port, or starboard, back, or stop her.
But when upon my port is seen
A steamer's starboard light of green,
There's naught for me to do but see
That green to port keeps clear of me.

Both in safety and in doubt
I always keep a good look-out.
In danger with no room to turn
I ease her, stop her, go astern.

By the way, these noble lines are not a folk-song. They should still be credited to their author, Thomas Gray. I doubt if this was the Thomas Gray who wrote the Elegy in a Country Churchyard. But anyone who got the instructions badly mixed up would then be in an excellent position to write on Elegy in a Ship's Churchyard.

As Our Readers See It

BILL OF RIGHTS

The following quotation from Oswald Chambers book, "Not Knowing Whither," is a bill of rights:

"We have the perfect right not to insist on our rights, it is the privilege of a Christian to waive his rights; but we do not always recognize that we must insist on those associated with us getting their rights. If they prefer to take the line of faith that we take, that is their responsibility, but we are not exonerated from seeing they get their rights."

SOUND OF A VOICE THAT IS STILLED

I would like you to know how much I enjoyed the editorial, "They're Stealing It Piece by Piece," in the October 6 Times. I also enjoyed the previous article about train whistles written by Bruce Hutchison. I suppose you know that it was reprinted in "Trains" magazine.

I think something should be done to keep steam alive in this city by obtaining a steam locomotive and putting it in a public place. This has been done in other cities, the most recent being in Tacoma, Wash. I would personally guarantee that it would be looked after.

We have a very active Model Railroad Club in this city and I am sure they would take a keen interest in such a project.

SORORITY COLOR BAR

The Ubysey, British Columbia University paper, has lately spread itself with a front page proclamation that:

"Non-white girls are eliminated from lists used to mail information about sororities and application for membership."

It is essential to Fascism that its dupes be inoculated with the virus of "racial superiority."

Inexperienced youth, en masse, will swallow flattery to any amount; and thus be easily led by the nose.

It is a fitting climax to the superficial trash termed modernist culture, that a fellow creature should be judged by the skin, and not by the type of soul within.

This Fascist racial racket got off to a good start at Shawigan Lake School, whether by accident or design; along with the added attraction of being very un-British.

THE OTHER SIDE

In an issue of the Daily Times there was a news item from Evanston's World Council of Churches Assembly about religious persecution in Colombia and other Latin American countries. Would you please print the other side of the story as told by a former Protestant missionary. In a letter published in Time Magazine the Rev. George F. Packard, rector of Immanuel and Trinity Episcopal churches, Glencoe, Md., said:

"One cannot consistently and indiscriminately criticize the religion of a people who have had the teachings of the Roman Church, as it exists in Colombia, ingrained in their life and thought for untold generations and expect a cordial reception."

"All the responsibility is not with the Colombians," he added. "The missionaries and their boards might well search the Gospels anew and redirect their activity."

The minister said that he served as a missionary in Colombia from 1944 to 1947. Thank you, Mr. Editor, for publishing this letter, which I feel is in fairness to the other side of the question and is put forth by a Protestant missionary who labored in South America.

THAT TEMPTING APPLE

"Believe it or not" apples are still the most tempting thing of the day. I was astounded when coming out of the Cathedral on Sunday evening, from the harvest festival service on October 10th, to see in the entrance lobby of our church, a youth steal an apple from the display there.

What annoyed me most was the fact that he turned to what I presumed were his parents—there were three adults with him—and seemingly got permission to do so. A lad of his age, and he was between 14 and 16 at least, should have known better, so should the parents whom I know saw it all.

My little bit of good Irish started to get hot and I only realized in time that I was in a sacred building which belonged to the Almighty and I was on what was supposed to be hallowed ground and that I must not desecrate it even if he did.

It was quite evident this young man had not been correctly brought up or he would not even have had a desire for it. It was quite plain to me to see he knew he was doing wrong by the look on his face, and if he had seen mine I think he would have dropped that apple.

I also saw by that act that the devil had attended that service, in all his devilish glory, to try to destroy one of our younger offenders even under the roof of a sacred building. They were not poor people, because if they could afford to buy gas for their car, surely they could buy an apple.

What is the matter with the parental teaching these days?

MRS. A. B. MARSHALL,
749 Fort Street.

Autumn in the East

From The New York Times

THE thing that makes autumn so bitter sweet is its silence. The bird-bath in the garden stays filled to the brim for days; no saucy catbirds, no ruffled robins splash in it now, sending shining droplets of water in every direction. For no birds sing; there are only the chatter of garrulous sparrows and the rough voices of bluejays talking to one another.

Clear autumn mornings are so beautiful that one listens half expecting to hear birds rejoicing in the golden light, but not for another five or six months will morning song be heard again.

The wren has made, dutifully, her last inspection of the house in which she raised yet another brood of fussy, fluttering youngsters, and she has gone for the winter. She looked pre-occupied and tired, as well she might.

IMPRESSIVE SKILL

Now in the mornings magically appear on hedges and grass pearly cobweb handkerchiefs, dropped (they say) by some fairy band dancing in the gray light of autumn dawn. Big black and yellow spiders construct with impressive skill long webs between flower and flower and lie motionless in the center until some witless insect bumbles into the threads.

Then the spider leaps into motion, the web trembles and sways as the prey is seized, wrapped in a white shroud and made fast to a strand for future disposal. Morning mists change this net of death into a thing of shining, symmetrical beauty.

In the early twilight the nicotiana opens and shines a pure white, filling the autumn air with spicy fragrance—suggesting to the gardener that it would be nice some day if the people who strive so successfully to make flowers bigger and more colorful would put back some of the fragrance lost in the search for new and larger blooms.

NOT QUITE READY

Perhaps one puts fresh water into the bird bath, whose contents have been turned brown by falling leaves, and the practical lady gardener asks whether it is not time to clean up this object and put it in the cellar. Not yet; wait.

When the bulbs are in and air is full of leaves it will be time. There will be a day when the spade, the clippers, the trowels, the lawnmower are all put away under the cellar stairs, and then the bird bath, disassembled, will join them. But it is too soon now.

In the bed where one has planted the seeds of hollyhocks, carnations, campanulas and dianthus—more as a gesture of faith than in hopes that these perennials actually will survive to be transplanted next spring—one discovers a stray petunia bravely starting to grow as though summer had just turned the corner from spring.

A pot is found and these four little leaves with their roots are transplanted, brought inside and put in the kitchen window where the sun is and where, one hopes, they will grow during the long cold months into a bit of green summer-time. Even a little bit will be welcome.

The Problem of Plenty

Ottawa Citizen

THE United States government has set itself the task of disposing of an accumulation of wheat, cotton, fats and oils, and other farm products acquired through its long-standing policy of high price supports for these basic commodities.

Canada and other exporting countries, understandably, are anxious about the effect on their own trade of this unloading program. They have had assurances during the past several months that Washington will do everything in its power to prevent a dislocation of markets, yet this may be difficult to accomplish, and the anxiety remains.

Mr. Harold Stassen, U.S. Foreign Operations Administration director, has repeated these assurances here, during his visit to the meeting of Colombo Plan participants.

The American plan, he says, is to dispose of surpluses only to countries which have already made their normal purchases through normal channels of supply. This would mean extra supplies of wanted produce which presumably the receiving countries would otherwise go without.

ENORMOUS TASK

Yet the task of disposal is an enormous one. Negotiations are now proceeding for the sale abroad of American surplus farm products to the value of $384 million (total stocks in government bonds are valued at about one billion), much of which is represented by bread grains in which Canada is keenly interested.

It still remains a question whether these supplies can be insulated from the regular market in such a way as to have no damaging effect on prices. Moreover, the U.S. administration has not yet fully succeeded in its drive to bring its domestic farm support program under control so as to discourage excessive production.

The opposite risk is that lowered farm supports might in time induce scarcity conditions. Perhaps the final answer to a difficult problem is international action, through a world food bank, to provide needy countries with the food Mr. Stassen is now trying to distribute by unilateral action. Dislocation of other people's markets might then be avoided or at least reduced to a minimum.

THE SIMPLE SOUL

Norman Douglas is remarkable among the important writers of our time for a certain coherent simplicity. Critics often compared him to an ancient Greek, and the comparison is especially apt if we remember that both the Egyptians and the Romans thought the Greeks in some ways rather childlike.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

One Frenchman declared after a short visit to London and a round of the London clubs that the greatest export of England was silence. Is there any other electorate, for example, in the world who'd return for forty years to parliament, as one country district I know in the West country of England did, a man who's only recorded remark in Hansard was "Will the Speaker cause the door to be shut, there's a slight draught?" His constituents clung to him, through thick and thin because, as one old farmer said to me, "You know, he's the man for us, to send to that talk shop in Westminster, we can rely on him to keep his trap shut."

DENNIS THE MENACE

From Our Files

Oct. 13, 1894—The Daily Times runs on its front page today a picture of the "splendid new paddle steamer Prince Rupert," now being built on the Clyde for the company's Victoria-Vancouver route, to be in service in November.

Oct. 13, 1914—"Madame Sherry," Viennese operetta, was presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night by the Lawrence Stock Company, Vancouver. The play "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" is next.

Oct. 13, 1934—A picture of great interest to Victorians was previewed at the Capitol Theatre this forenoon. It was taken from the air for the Motion Picture Bureau of the federal department of trade and commerce.

Two Kinds of Art

VISITORS to the Jan Zach exhibition, which opened at the Arts Centre last night, found plenty to be excited about in the talented Czech-Canadian's work. But one outstanding piece was missing—and thereby hangs a tale.

When Yousuf Karsh came to Victoria in the summer of 1953 in his "Cities of Canada" tour, he was intrigued to learn that one of Emily Carr's last studios was now occupied by the New Canadian, Zach. He decided to photograph the artist as representative of the new talent which had come to Canada since the war.

Keate

As he was moving about the studio, looking for a suitable place to set up his camera, Karsh was attracted by a piece of sculpture called "Aphrodite." It was a lean, gracefully-flowing study in red cedar of a woman with her arms over her head.

Mme. Karsh stopped in front of it and blinked her eyes. It was a clear case of love at first sight.

"Yousuf!" she cried. "We must have that! It is ideal for our gallery."

Karsh nodded his assent. And, before the picture-taking assignment was over, he asked Zach to put a price on the sculpture.

Jan, pleased with their enthusiasm, merely grinned and refused comment. Nobody knew for certain exactly what he was thinking. His friends guessed that here was the age-old dilemma of the artist who had created something so lovely, of which he was so proud, that he could not bear to part with it.

But the Karshes made it plain that they would not give up without a fight. In letters to Victoria friends, they inquired about "Aphrodite," and wanted to be assured that it had not been sold.

A few weeks ago Jan Zach gave in—naming a price which would be easy to refuse. Promptly came a letter from the famed photographer:

"Both Madame Karsh and myself will be proud and happy to own 'Aphrodite'—the price you suggest is quite acceptable. . . the modern treatment of our house will be an ideal setting for your masterpiece. It will have a place of honor."

And now to another creative work, which is something less than a "masterpiece." We refer to the Sunday night perpetration over KVO's of the film, "Vignettes of Victoria," which was advertised as "the first television program to be seen from Victoria."

The people responsible for this atrocity ought to be handcuffed together and set adrift (somewhere off Flattery) in the Showboat. Badly photographed and tritely written, it somehow conveyed the distinct impression that the sole means of transportation in Victoria is the trolley. And, so help us, it even revived that cliché about the dogs and cats in our town walking when they chased each other.

Fortunately for all concerned, the film broke about halfway through. No doubt some honest Victorians "saw their duty and done it."

YOUR HEALTH

The Grit to Carry On

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Harry and Bonaro Overstreet said in their interesting book, "The Mind Alive" (W. W. Norton, p. 222) one often is humbled and amazed as one sees how some frail, overworked and disappointed persons carry on, year after year. The world is full of them. One marvels at the way in which these persons, whose hopes have been broken again and again, still manage to find within themselves some reason for framing new hopes.

Dr. Alvarez

Years ago, when I was a young physician, I used often to wonder how certain frail, tired and overworked women could carry on for years as they had done and were doing. Sometimes I would see a poor widow working hard all day to support several children and put them through school. Not only was her work too hard for her, but because of poor digestion she would eat so little that I could not understand how she could keep alive.

Because of insomnia, or a sick child, she could never get a good night's sleep. And yet perhaps when I would meet her 10 years later, I would find her still just as thin and just as tired, but somehow still working away every day, doing a big job and doing it well.

One of the things I marvel at is that these people can carry on without hope of any particular good fortune. If only there was a chance that someday a wealthy uncle in Australia would die and leave the person a half-million! But no; for them there is never any such hope; there is no happy vacation; no journey anywhere; nothing ever happens that is very exciting; even the postman will never bring anything more interesting than a bill!

My hat is off to all the poor people in this world who labor so hard all day and half the night. The other evening, at a restaurant, a fine woman of 40 or so waited on me. As I sometimes do, I asked, "How many children are you putting through high school?" And she said, "One, plus two in college." This is a great country because of women like that.

LAWS DEALING WITH EPILEPSY

At a recent meeting of the National League against Epilepsy, in Washington, D.C., a number of experts discussed the laws to be found on the statute books of the several states dealing with epileptics.

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Nineteen states prohibit marriage of epileptics; 15 require that epileptics be placed in institutions. This probably refers to epileptics who are incapacitated by their disease. Forty-seven states refuse an epileptic a driver's license.

The experts agreed that ordinarily epilepsy should be no bar to marriage or normal living. Obviously, of course, many epileptics will prefer not to run the risk of having children. Geneticists who really understand the problem have never asked that epileptics be sterilized or that they be denied marriage, because they know that the defect can show up just as well in the children of the brothers and sisters of the affected persons. These brothers and sisters can be silent carriers of the disease.

According to Dr. Sands of the Epilepsy Association of New York, many employers of labor should know that most of the accidents which happen to epileptics do not happen during a seizure or because of it; they are accidents such as might have happened to anyone.

COLD FEET

I was just reading a fascinating book written by Mrs. Gwen Raverat, a granddaughter of Charles Darwin ("A Period Piece," Norton, N.Y.). She said that all the Darwins—a very nervous clan—had such cold feet that they had to wear bed socks. Evidently, then, heredity is one factor in producing this often annoying complaint.

Very cold hands and cold white fingers are produced by an overly active sympathetic nervous system, influenced by strong emotions, and I imagine cold feet can be produced in the same way. Certainly a surgeon can give a person warm, cosy feet by cutting the sympathetic nerve back of the abdominal cavity.

In the cases of older persons cold feet are due sometimes to the poor circulation which results from an arteriosclerotic narrowing of the arteries in the legs. In that case a person is likely to get severe pain in the legs after walking a short distance. Then he has to stop for a few minutes, and after that he can walk on again for a little way.

This symptom is called intermittent claudication. In many of these cases the patient smokes two or three packages of cigarettes a day, and this excessive use of tobacco may be a factor in causing the trouble.

Aside from stopping smoking and perhaps having the nerves to the narrowed arteries cut, there doesn't seem to be much to do. People with very cold hands and occasionally white fingers usually have to wear heavy fur-lined gloves in the winter.

ADENAUER TO VISIT IN U.S. FOR WEEK

BONN (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will confer with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles during his coming visit to the United States, it was announced today.

U.S. occupation authorities said the 78-year-old German leader will fly to New York Oct. 25 or 26 in a special U.S. air force plane. He will meet Dulles in Washington on the evening of Oct. 28, and lunch with the President the following day.

Columbia University will award Adenauer an honorary degree while he is in the United States, and he also may visit Chicago during his week-long stay.

Charlie to Celebrate 60 Years in Workhouse

MEMEL HEMPSTEAD, England (CP)—Charlie Hempstead is having the first party of his 70-odd years next week—to celebrate his 60 happy years in the workhouse.

No one knows how old Charlie is, because when he entered the workhouse as an orphan of 12 or 14 no records were kept. He was given a white corduroy suit, a pile of straw to sleep on and a job in the laundry.

Charlie worked from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. every day and received board, bed and two ounces of tobacco a week. Four kings and a queen came to the throne, and three wars began and ended—and Charlie stayed inside the workhouse. He liked it there.

"You see, it was the only home I knew."

Has Charlie any regrets about his life behind the brick walls? "I never had any until they gave us this here television. This horse racing they show—I'd have liked to have had a bit of money to spend at a race course when I was a lad."

2 Plead Guilt In Selling Sweep Tickets

VANCOUVER (CP)—City prosecutor Stewart McMorran Tuesday described one of three men arrested in a police crackdown on illegal possession of lottery tickets as "a large distributor of tickets."

Mr. McMorran said evidence obtained in a raid on the home of Henry Delmonico, 59, showed the man had dealt in approximately $70,000 worth of Irish sweepstakes tickets during the last year.

Delmonico and Arthur Smith, 51, both pleaded guilty in police court on charges of selling lottery tickets. They were remanded to Friday for sentence.

George Daum, 59, was also remanded to Friday on a similar charge.

7 Coal Miners Die In Aussie Disaster; Probe Ordered

COLLINSVILLE, Australia (UP)—The Queensland government promised a full investigation today into a mine disaster which took the lives of seven coal miners here.

Hundreds of miners and their families huddled anxiously at the pithead after sirens wailed news of the underground tragedy. Nine miners were killed by an influx of poison gas in a tunnel, but two others were rescued.

The disaster climaxed a long run of bad luck at the state-operated mine, 800 miles north of Brisbane, which has dogged the enterprise since it was mechanized last year at a cost of about $1,500,000. Government mine inspectors flew to the scene to open their inquiry.

Erring Truck Driver Jailed in Jiffy

Justice was swift for a Victoria man, Kenneth Baxter Dobbie, who was arrested by Colwood RCMP on Tuesday morning; driving a logging truck while his license was under suspension.

He was brought into Belmont headquarters just as the twice-weekly court was opening, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay $100 and $4.50 costs or 30 days. He chose the latter.

In the same court, Stanley Jones, Craigflower, was fined $25 and $3.50 costs for failing to file income tax returns. John White, Belmont Auto Court, and Ronald E. Davies, Sooke Road, each paid $10 and $3 costs for speeding. Roger Bertel Dalquist, Sooke Road, and a juvenile, each were fined for driving without liability insurance as required by the terms of their license.

Bertel paid $25 and $3 costs, the juvenile $10 and $3 costs.

Robert Rabb, RCN, Esquimalt, paid $50 and $5 costs for being a minor in possession of liquor.

Two charges involving bogus cheques were dropped. They had been laid against James Arthur Mervin, no fixed address. Police said that in view of the fact that he was sentenced on a similar charge recently in the interior, prosecution would only result in a concurrent sentence.

Magistrate A. I. Thomas presided.

Kiwanis Hear Woman Pastor

Men must see their jobs not just as their vocations, but in a larger locale, as a God-given way for the Lord's voice to speak to the world.

Rev. E. Laura Butler, B.A. STB, told members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club Tuesday in the Empress Hotel, that men must view their business, whatever it is, as one of God's ministries.

"Whatever you do," she

AS ADEPT WITH THE PLOW as she is in basketball, softball and volleyball, pretty Betty Opsko, above, of Waterford, Ont., is one of two Canadian girls who will match their feminine skill against the world's best plowmen in the International Plowing Match which opened Tuesday at Breslau, Ont. A 20-year-old blonde, Betty, and her mother, run a 165-acre general farm where she plows 100 acres a year. Since she first turned a furrow eight years ago, Betty has walked off with all-men and open classes and has averaged $100 a year in prize money for the past four years. Four older brothers, who married and set up their own homes, taught her the basics of plowing. (SNS Photo).

Mainguy's Statement on Red Subs Confirmed by Top NATO Admiral

OTTAWA (CP)—NATO's Atlantic commander said Tuesday Russian submarines have appeared and are continuing to be detected in North American coastal waters.

"We have them (Russian submarines) in the Atlantic and Pacific though there has been no increase in their numbers lately," American Admiral Jeraud Wright told reporters on his arrival here for a two-day visit from his headquarters at Norfolk, Va.

Asked about Tuesday's report by Tass, official Soviet news agency, denying that Russian subs are operating along the Canadian coasts, Wright cracked: "Because it's in Tass doesn't lend it authenticity."

Tass classed as a "downright invention," a recent statement by Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, chief of the Canadian naval staff, that Russian submarine activity off Canada's coasts had been reported continually during the last 18 months.

WALKING CHAMP
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Defending champion Henry Laskau of New York led all the way Tuesday in winning the national 20,000 metre walking title for the third straight year in 1:44.53.03.

Federal judge Lawrence E. Walsh scheduled October 26 for sentencing and hearing of defense motions.

The four convicted for the Congress shootings in a previous trial are Dolores Lolita Lebron, 34; Rafael Canel-Miranda, 23; Irvin Flores Rodriguez, 29; and Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29. They received long prison terms in that case.

The thirteen, including two women, sat silently with heads bowed as the foreman read the verdict.

The maximum penalty for each would be six years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The Nationalist party, which is dedicated to complete independence for Puerto Rico, first gained notoriety when two of its members attempted to assassinate former President Truman.

The Congress shooting came last March 1. The government charged that all 13 had conspired to bring about Puerto Rico's independence from the

CAMPER'S RETURN

Growing Son Surprises Dad

By PETE LOUDON

I went down to meet my kid when he came back from camp," the young father was saying.

"He'd been at Y camp, Camp Thunderbird. He was standing in a pile of kit bags in the lobby of the Y where the bus had dropped him. He had on a filthy sweater, a pair of jeans with the knee out, and a Joe E. Brown grin. "I opened my arms so he could throw himself at me and I was hoping he wouldn't kiss me. The funny thing was, he didn't even move. Just said 'Hi Dad.'"

"He was facing something in his hand. When I looked closer I saw it was four-throng braid he was making, to splice his compass to, he explained later. That boy couldn't tie his shoe laces in less than five minutes before he went to camp."

"It was a bit of a shock. The tow-head had sort of relied on me for things like that before. Anyway, I didn't have time to take in all the changes right away. I had to get him home. Somehow we had to work in time for a bath before supper. I figured."

Teddy Bear Was Reminder of Home

"I reached for his bedroll. It was the one we'd sewn the Teddy Bear into, just in case the first dark night away from home was a long one. But he picked up the bedroll himself and said, 'Where's the car, Dad?'"

"We tossed the gear into the car. 'Want a coke,' I asked him. He said 'sure' and we headed for the corner, me putting out my hand as usual to take his across the street. All I was grabbing was empty air. He stalked off, a bit ahead of me, kind of cocky."

"I'm telling you. It comes as a shock. I sent a hesitant nine-year-old to camp and this self-assured little character comes back."

"In the cafe I asked him if he had a good time at camp. He looks at me as if I'd asked him if he knew his name. 'Sure,' he says. 'I'm a brave.'"

He told me that at first he'd been a papoose. But after a ritual that included swimming in a mountain lake that I happen to know would be like home-sweet-home to a polar bear, he was made a brave."

"This was the boy who used to put on three sweaters before he'd wash in the morning—if I didn't catch him first. He had to sleep out under the stars during an overnight hike, too. Then they made him 'Little Brave Redfeather.'"

"Next year I get to wallop the guys who are late for muckamuck with the Islettye," he says. That, I find out, means the laggards at chow get a clout on the rump with a flat bat. He said he got it. "Cry? Heck no—that's kid stuff. So help me, he's almost a man."

"So you see, that's why I'm sold on the Y. He gets year-round swimming there with top instruction. The same guy that trained Flo Chadwick. A year's fees aren't as much as my smokes for a month. And my kid says lots of the boys, kids from tough-luck homes, don't pay a cent."

"He gets hobbies, sports, movies and parties and he can enjoy Y supervised projects until he's 17. The low cost and the no-cost which applies for the hard-up kids, that's the only because of one thing—Community Chest. And you say the Chest needs money."

"So sign me up for payroll deduction. I gotta get along. My kid and I are going to a father and son supper at the Y. If I'm late he's got me slated for a lick from Islettye. Never forgive me for that Teddy Bear."

New Kind of Rice Pudding

Glamorized with coconut — and made with double-rich Carnation Milk, the milk that whips!

Sunny Isle RICE PUDDING made with CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK

Series 6

1 large can undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk	1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup water	1 teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs	1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 cup sugar	2 cups cooked rice
	1/4 cup shredded coconut

Beat Carnation Milk, water, eggs, sugar, salt and flavorings until smooth. Pour over coconut in 2 quart casserole. Place casserole in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. Stir lightly, but thoroughly. Continue baking 30 minutes. Top with remaining coconut during last 5 to 7 minutes. Cool before serving.

You get better cooking results when you use double-rich Carnation Evaporated Milk. For Carnation has special blending qualities not found in any other form of milk. You'll cook better when you cook with Carnation.

VANCOUVER FEARS RISE OF JOBLESS

VANCOUVER (CP)—City council Tuesday approved a resolution calling for a plan for unemployment relief to meet the expected acute jobless problem this winter.

Aldermen will ask the Union of B.C. Municipalities at its convention next week to meet immediately with the provincial government on the jobless program.

Hospital Costs Double Since '48 Average Patient Stay Increasing

VANCOUVER (CP)—The cost of operating British Columbia's hospitals has more than doubled since 1948, W. J. Lyle of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service reported Tuesday.

Mr. Lyle told some 200 delegates attending the convention of the B.C. Hospitals' Association underway here that hospital expenditures in the province this year will total $35,000,000 compared to $16,700,000. Of the 1954 total, $24,500,000 was for salaries and wages. Mr. Lyle said introduction of the five-day, 40-hour week and increased salaries accounted for a big part of the increase over the 1948 figure.

Mr. Lyle said a Canada-wide study of hospital figures for 1952 showed that B.C., with only 8 per cent of the country's population, had 10 per cent of the hospital beds and 12 per cent of the hospital employees.

He also reported that, contrary to the national trend, the average length of time spent by patients in B.C. hospitals was increasing.

Evatt Averts Threat To His Leadership

CANBERRA (Reuters)—Herbert Evatt, opposition leader in the federal Parliament, today averted a threat to his leadership of the Australian Labor Party.

He did this at a party caucus by ruling out of order a motion seeking to declare the leadership and other positions vacant.

This was the latest move in the conflict within the party which was brought to a head by Evatt's appearance as a lawyer before the Australian royal commission on espionage to defend two former members of his staff without getting the party's approval.

The party leaders met today behind locked doors.

Evatt announced after the 2½-hour meeting that the caucus had adopted by 54 votes to 16 his recommendation that "no member of the party shall make any public statement on a subject which is the matter of a dispute without discussion with the parliamentary executive."

It was understood that the move to declare all party positions vacant was made by Senator George Cole of Tasmania. Evatt ruled that notice must be given for such a motion so that nominations could be put forward for the vacancies.

'Red' Dean in Moscow Gathering Book Data

MOSCOW (AP)—Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red" Dean of Canterbury, arrived in Moscow Tuesday night to collect material for a book on Russia.

Dr. Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, was met by officials of the USSR Society for Cultural Relations with foreign countries, which invited him to the Soviet Union. The Anglican dean expects to make a five-week survey of religious, educational, agricultural and hydro-electric developments for his book.

HOME GARDEN

Time for Transformation As Summer Gardens Fade

The rain, wind and light frost of the week-end will have written the finale to the summer garden symphony.

It is the time of transformation—the planting of the winter-hardy bulbs and the digging and storing of the half-hardy tubers, corms and bulbs which have flowered during summer and early fall.

While it is advisable to allow the first frost to blacken the foliage of some of these plants, there are others which may be lifted now. The small flowered gladioli which bloomed in early July should be dug. Remove the dried foliage close to the corm. Leave in a warm, airy place out of the sun to dry for a few days. Clean carefully for storage, leaving the outer jackets intact. Paper bags of dry sand or peat moss may be used for winter containers, and the storage place should be around 45 degrees F.

VINDICATED—Pacific (Pax) Plant, Montreal crime-buster who was dismissed from his post in 1948, has been vindicated by the finding of the recent probe into Montreal vice. M. Plant is backing Jean Drapeau, who will try for Camille Houde's job as mayor with a promise to reform the law enforcement agencies.

VMD GIVEN CONTRACT FOR $200,000 DOCK

Contract for construction of a floating drydock for use in Kootenay Lake has been awarded Victoria Machinery Depot, the provincial department of public works announced Tuesday.

The VMD bid was for $221,369.49. The drydock will be installed near Nelson, and used for repair work on the two government ferries operating on Kootenay Lake.

Work is to start at once, and will give employment to about 25 men for four months, a VMD official said.

$125 ZENITH HEARING AID BETTER BUY THAN AIDS AVERAGING $268!

SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE that the Zenith—priced at less than 1/2 as much—offers equivalent performance for 1/2 the average operating and upkeep cost!

ZENITH has always said you can pay up to $300 or more but you can't buy a finer hearing aid than a Zenith. To support this statement, Zenith requested the United States Testing Company to purchase on the open market two Zenith Hearing Aids and two of each of America's five foremost competitive brands of transistor hearing aids, and to test them thoroughly. Each of the instruments was subjected to a series of rigorous tests for quality, performance and economy. The results, contained in Report No. E-9158, dated September 13, 1954, tell us:

1. Despite the huge difference in price, U. S. Testing Company reported, "The Zenith 'Royal-T' was equal to the other 5 brands in design, choice of materials and components, and in workmanship."

2. Here's how Zenith compared with the average of the other five brands in bringing you a full measure of acoustic power performance:

Acoustic output	ZENITH	115.5 db.	OTHERS	132 db.
Maximum acoustic gain	ZENITH	64 db.	OTHERS	60.8 db.
Surplus acoustic output	ZENITH	131 db.	OTHERS	131.1 db.

3. The 3-transistor Zenith "Royal-T" cost $18.93 less to operate per year than the average of the other aids tested.

4. The Zenith "Royal-T" registered less objectionable noise due to clothing rub than any of the other five brands.

5. Based on a five-year overall cost projection—Involving initial price, battery replacements, etc.—the $125 Zenith "Royal-T" will serve you for substantially less than 1/2 the cost of the average competitive aid.

You can try the "Royal-T" at home, work, church, theatre, anywhere, on Zenith's famous 10-Day Money-Back Guarantee. One tiny 184 battery operates the "Royal-T" for 30 days.

And here's important news! Zenith has recently introduced the smallest, lightest hearing aid in its history—the tiny, tubeless, 3-transistor "Royal-M." Only $100! Same power and performance as the "Royal-T." Prices include air conduction receiver and stock earmold.

For a free demonstration, see your nearest Zenith Hearing Aid Dealer. He is listed in the classified phone directory. Or write for free literature and local dealer list: Zenith Radio Corporation of Canada, Ltd., Dept. KAT 1165 Tecumseh Rd., East, Windsor, Ont.

Up-Island Hunter Makes Historic Bag

The first bull elk hunting season since 1910 opened last Saturday and closes tonight and one of the few hunters to cash in on the season was Ted Rawlins, fire warden who resides in Parksville. Rawlins was deer hunting Saturday near Moriarity Creek in the Northwest Bay area with Lawrence Ware. After Ware shot a buck deer, elk tracks were struck and the hunters soon spotted a female elk and its calf. Rawlins hurried back to town for a big game license, returned at 4 in the afternoon and dropped the bull elk at five in the afternoon with five slugs from a .300 Savage rifle. The nine-year-old elk produced 520 pounds of meat and the handsome set of antlers Rawlins admires above. (Photo by Flett Studios).

TOO VALUABLE?

Jackie Figures To Stick

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn's volatile on-and-off-the-field performer, said Tuesday he doesn't think the Dodgers can afford to trade him and he expects to have a big year next season.

"I don't think the ball club can up and dump me. Where can they get a man who can play as many positions as I do and give a pretty good job at each one," Robinson said.

The 35-year-old Negro infielder-outfielder, who cracked baseball's color line for all time when he broke in at first base for the Dodgers in 1947, writes off his '54 season and looks ahead to his ninth year in the major leagues.

Robinson hit .311 in 124 games this year and played at third base, second base and left field. He played with injuries most of the year and baseball writers chirped Robinson was through as a full-time competitor and should head the toll of the bell. Robinson also grew into disfavor with the Ebbetts Field faithful.

"People don't know how I was hurting last season. I did not have two weeks in a row where I felt good," Jack said.

The sedative was in the form of the arrival in the city late this morning of defenseman Pete Durham, from his home in Port Arthur.

Durham may be dressed for tonight's Western Hockey League game against Edmonton Flyers at Memorial Arena.

Durham will be dressed for tonight's Western Hockey League game against Edmonton Flyers at Memorial Arena.

Durham's use in the game will depend on his physical condition as it is not known what training he has indulged in.

Durham has been a holdout since he was traded to the Cougars for left winger Sam Bettio in an off-season deal. Bettio since has gone to Buffalo.

Last year with the New Westminster Royals Durham led all defensemen in scoring with 17 goals and 36 assists for 53 points. He was also named to the WHL's second all-star team.

Durham's acquisition will partly take up the slack occasioned by the injuries to Wayne Brown and Bill Bucyk, injuries which will keep the pair on the shelf for five weeks or more. Brown has a double fracture of the leg and Bucyk a cracked kneecap.

FILION DECLINES

Cougars also attempted to deal for Rudy Filion Tuesday, having received permission from coach Frank Datten of the Royals to do so. However, Filion who lives in Seattle, announced that he is retiring from hockey and entering private business.

Still, indications point to possible additional player assistance before the week is out. Owner Kenny MacKenzie of the Royals has implied that he will deal the Cougars' help when his playing roster is finalized.

In the Flyers, the Cougars tonight are meeting the youngest club in the league. Studded with rookie talent the Flyers have such newcomers as Norm Ullman, Bronco Horvath, Jerry Melnyk, Bob Rawlyk, Ed Stankiewicz and Johnny Bucyk.

Other players include goalie Glen Hall, Steve Hrymka, Larry Zeidel (down from the Detroit Red Wings), Hugh Coffin, Al Arbour (also down from the Wings), Ed Zenk (with Seattle last year), Vic Stasiuk, Enio Scisizzi, Len Haley, Ray Hannigan.

For the Cougars, a line shift will see coach Bill Reay at left wing on a line with Ed Dorohoy and Andy Hebertson.

Colin Kilburn, Doug Anderson and Alex Kuzma will work as a unit with Gene Achtymchuk pivoting Dave Watt and Mark Marquess.

Game time is 8:30.

Youngsters to Travel With U.S. Net Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Gerald Moss of Modesto, Calif., and Mike Green of Miami Beach, Fla., winners of the two big junior tennis titles in the United States, Tuesday were named by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association to accompany the Davis Cup team to Australia next winter.

The move, recommended by the Davis Cup selection committee, was another step in the USLTA program to develop the most promising young players.

Moss, 18, won the USLTA junior championship defeating Green in the final. Green, USLTA boys' champion in 1953 and interscholastic champion in 1953, won the first national junior Chamber of Commerce tournament, in which nearly 10,000 youngsters competed.

LONDON (AP)—Arsenal, English First Division soccer club, play the Russian club of Spartak in London Nov. 9. It was announced Tuesday. Arsenal lost 5-0 in Russia to Moscow Spartak, Oct. 5.

BYGRAVES VICTOR

LONDON (AP) — Heavyweight Joe Bygraves of Britain won a unanimous decision over Eddie Polly Smith, light-heavyweight champion of Bermuda, in an eight-round bout at London's Albert Hall Tuesday night. Bygraves weighed 194½, Smith 183.

PEG PAULINS LEAVE FOR WORLD HOOP MEET

WINNIPEG (BUP)—The Winnipeg Canadians left Tuesday to try to bring world basketball supremacy to Canada.

The Canadians, who won the Dominion hoop title last spring as the Winnipeg Paulins, will play at Sao Paulo, Brazil, in the international cage carnival starting Oct. 20.

The Canadians are led by King Carl Ridd, the most prolific scorer in Canadian basketball, and have nine other hot-shot artists on the roster to back him up. Besides Ridd, the 10-member team consists of Herb Olafsson, Doug Graham, Andy Spack, Roy Burkett, George Oelkets, Mike Spack, Calph Watts, Ken Callis and Wally Parobec.

Jesse's World Jump Mark Soon To Be Broken—Jesse

NEW YORK (AP)—Jesse Owens, molder of the oldest of the world track and field records, predicted today his 19-year-old broad jump mark will be broken soon.

"Record breaking comes in cycles," the former Olympic star said in an interview. "This year it was the mile. They set their sights on the four-minute-mile and once somebody ran it everybody found out it could be done."

"The same goes for broad jumping. I think we'll come up with some boys soon who will regularly jump better than 25 feet. Then 26 feet.

Royals Lead WHL

One-Two in the Coho Derby

The three-day Cowichan Bay Salmon Club coho derby wound up Monday with the presentation of prizes and Jack Turnley of Mill Bay, left and Victoria's Frank Partridge were the first in line. Turnley, who entered a 16.5-pound coho on Monday, walked off with a $100 cash prize and the Anchor Cafe Trophy for the derby's biggest fish. Partridge boated a 16-pounder Saturday to win $100 and qualify as runner-up to the trophy. (Photo by Flett Studios).

Trip Flyers; Quakers Edge Stamps

New Westminster 5
Edmonton 3

New Westminster Royals hold a narrow one-point margin atop the Western Hockey League standings today after coming from behind Tuesday night to defeat Edmonton Flyers 5-3.

While Royals were picking up their third win of the young WHL season, Saskatoon Quakers were handing the champion Calgary Stampeders their third loss, 4-2.

New Westminster, sporting a tie along with their three wins, overcame a three-goal deficit to defeat Edmonton and displace Vancouver Canucks as league leaders.

Key figures in Royals' win on home ice were centre Guyle Fielder and goalie Lucien Dechene. Fielder who was the league's top point-getter last season, flashed his best form by turning in a hat-trick while Dechene, playing with a twisted ankle, kicked out everything shot his way in the last two periods.

THREE QUICK GOALS

Besides Fielder, Royals' marksmen were Max McNab and Sam Lavitt. Picking up Edmonton's three goals in the first five minutes of play were Larry Zeidel, Vic Stasiuk and Enio Scisizzi.

At Saskatoon, Quakers were paced by their second straight victory on home ice by George Robertson, Vic Howe, Vic Lynn and rookie Dick Lamoureux. Calgary's two markers were scored by Archie Scott and Sid Finney.

Quakers, playing a sound checking game, were never threatened as they took a 2-0 lead in the first period and split a pair of goals in each of the second and third periods.

Island Puck League Plans Gala Opening

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The week-end in review:

VICTORIA COUGARS 3, NEW WESTMINSTER 4

Cougars deserved better in this one, but it still doesn't take away from the fact that this is a prime and immediate need for defensive assistance. The club is admittedly weak on the back line and much more so now with rookie Bill Bucyk on the sidelines for a month or more. Hold it; Pete's here.

WAYNE BROWN BREAKS LEG

This could be a serious blow to the Cougars, as Brown was counted on to supply the goal-scoring punch that was missing last year. The Cougar forwards could not be faulted for a good two-way performance against Westminster and more or less carried most of the game's load themselves.

ED DOROHY RETURNS

This was indeed a relief to the Cougars as a consistent point-making centre was among the missing attributes the club laid claim to at the season's start. But now with Brown gone, the balance wheel has become jammed again and may need some jarring to become unstuck.

COLIN KILBURN GETS TWO GOALS

Few will deny that Kilburn is one of the brightest lights of Cougars this year. The chunky winger, a proven performer in the past, is off to his best start in the first few games of the season and in his role of captain has literally taken over leadership of the club.

VICTORIA CITY 1, NORTH SHORE 1

Soccer fans are usually hard-core in their fixations, but they're slowly coming around to the fact that in the youthful City side they have a representative club that not only is attempting to play a solid fundamental type of game, but is doing so, and more than adequately well.

VAMPIRES WIN GRID CROWN

More and more it must be realized that the City Football League has reached a peak reminiscent of the days of the Mustangs and the Cougars. There is little to choose between the three city teams and it should be a real wing-ding when Drakes and Vampires meet in the playoffs.

POME

There's a tear in the ear of the Cougar tonight; There's a flaw in the claw, with Reay in a plight. Wayne Brown he is down, his leg in a cast; Bill Bucyk is hobbled; his knee didn't last. You would guess such a mess sufficient a fix. But not with Al Leader—to the protest said "nix."

VANCOUVER CANUCKS 4, EDMONTON FLYERS 3

This was the third win for the amazing Canucks of coach Art Chapman. They don't figure to be this good on paper, but they are on the ice and that's where it counts. And could it be that in Johnny Bower they've picked up all they lost in Gump Worsley and, before Worsley, in Emil Francis? Yes, it could.

MAIL BAG: P. J. Woodley, of 123 Wellington Avenue, goes into the past for a striking similarity concerning Esquimalt's 4-3 triumph over Victoria West on Saturday, when the Dockers overcame a three-goal lead to win.

"It was one of my most exciting games in the 'middle,'" says Woodley, a former referee, of the Jackson Cup final in May of 1931. "With speed, excitement, reversal of form, thrilling play, roaring crowd, surprising victory."

Esquimalt won that game 4-3 by spotting Duncan a three-goal lead in the first half and then scoring four in return in the second half. Members of that Esquimalt team were: DeCosta; Joe Watt and Nicol, Hosmer, Nurse and Hay; R. Stewart, S. Stewart, John Watt, Boyd and Wagland.

There's really no truth to the rumor that Boom Boom Geoffrion and Rocket Richard will play for the Cougars tonight, although the Cougars would use them if they arrived, and calmly put the blame on the Canadians if a protest resulted. That's the way it is. Right Al? And all this nonsense about the Canucks not knowing Billy Dea was intelligible. Fred Hutchinson knew and he told Art Chapman of the Canucks he knew. And Fred told Art before the game!

Oddity—Pete Durham arrives today; the duck season opens Saturday.

Arnie Weinmeister On Scouting Trip

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Lions announced Tuesday they are sending their ace tackle Arnie Weinmeister on a scouting trip into the U.S.

Weinmeister, acquired by Lions from New York Giants of the National Football League, has missed most of the Western Interprovincial Football Union season with injuries. He now is out for the rest of the season with a torn ligament.

Club officials said Weinmeister will visit his Seattle home

Two Games Scheduled Monday

With a blast from the brass and a ripple from the reeds, the excellent Royal Canadian Navy band will send the 1954-55 Vancouver Island Amateur Hockey League season off to a synopocated start Monday night at Memorial Arena.

The gala opening night will be featured by the band, two games and two worthwhile door prizes. Chosen fans will take home a 21-inch television set and a $70 suit of clothes.

The two games will see Navy meeting C&C Taxi in the opener at 7:30 and defending champion Nanaimo Clippers tangling with Drake Hotel at 9.

Dick Irving's Drakes, formerly Victoria V's, are being sponsored by Jim Brownlee of Drake Hotel, who also sponsors the Oak Bay Drakes football team.

As the winner of the league this year will advance to the Coy Cup playoffs, Canadian Amateur Hockey Association rules will be in effect.

Referees will be Ross Valliere and Bert Nelson, assisted by linesmen Johnny Ruryk, Bill Hatcher and Johnny Smith.

DUGAN UNDECEID

Latest report from Nanaimo is that Arnie Dugan is still coaching the club and has not yet made arrangements to move to the east, in spite of conflicting rumors.

Manager Frank Crane said Tuesday that Dugan has been running the club through practice session and will be with the club at least until the end of the week, at which time he is expected to decide whether to stay in Nanaimo or take up an offer to play in Ontario.

Dugan was the leading scorer last year and was awarded the most valuable player trophy.

Miner Boosts Scoring Lead

WINNIPEG (CP) — The accurate toe of Tom Miner booted 15 points during the week-end and increased the big Calgary Stampeder end's margin in the individual scoring race in the Western Interprovincial Football Union to 12 points over runner-up Joe Aguirre of Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Statistics compiled by the Canadian Press for games up to and including Monday showed Miner, import from Tulsa University, with 75 points and 30 converts, 14 field goals and three singles.

B.E.G. Report

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—The financial report of the British Empire Games was delayed by a common cold today.

Sydney V. Smith, Games general manager, said he had been bed-ridden with a cold, since Monday, but he expected to resume talks with other Games officials to put the final touches on the report. Harold Merilees, vice-chairman, said the report would be ready in the near future.

LLAMAS SCORES AGAIN, UPSETS ART LARSEN

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Art Larsen, former United States singles champion, bowed Tuesday to Mexico's Mario Llamas in the semi-finals of the Pan-American tennis championship, 6-1, 8-10, 7-9, 3-6.

The other semi-final was called because of rain with Tony Trabert of Cincinnati leading Sven Davidson of Sweden 9-7. It will be completed today.

Llamas thus becomes the first Mexican to gain the final round in the 13-year history of the Pan-American tournament. Monday, Llamas eliminated U.S. national champ Vic Seixas.

V's WINLESS IN TWO STARTS

Allan Cup Champs Facing Problems

Penticton V's, conquerors of the best amateur hockey teams in Canada last season, are having difficulties right on their own doorstep this fall.

The Allan Cup champion V's, who will represent the Dominion in the world hockey championships next spring, are winless in two tries in Okanagan Senior League play.

They did manage to salvage a 4-4 tie against Vernon Canadians Tuesday night but had to scramble with three goals in the third period to do it.

V's were slapped down 7-4 by Kamloops Elks Saturday night.

Bill Warwick came through with the tying goal against Canadians with less than three minutes remaining in the game. Kevin Conway and Doug Kilburn scored the other third period markers and Jim Fairburn tallied in the second.

Newcomer Sherman Blair paced Vernon with two goals and Frank King and Art Davidson got the others.

The OSHL is the only B.C. amateur league in action so far. The sister Western International circuit kicks off Saturday night.

Pellow Takes Bunny Thompson Golf Trophy

Gordie Pellow fired a neat 74-70 Monday to win the Bunny Thompson Memorial Trophy in the annual tournament at Uplands Golf Club.

J. Ross, with 86-15, and R. Herberston, with 74-71, tied for the runner-up position. Pellow, Herberston and Jim Robertson all tied for low net honors with 74 and Colwood's Vic Painter was next with a 75.

1,000,000 TICKETS PLEDGED

Kansas City 'Big League'

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Wonderful." That one word best fits the feeling of Kansas City baseball fans who woke up this morning to the realization this solid baseball town of the midlands was in the act of going major league.

Most of the city was asleep when the news broke late Tuesday night that American League owners had voted unanimously to permit Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, to buy the financially decrepit Philadelphia Athletics and move the club to Kansas City.

Many of the fans who had a part in pledging the purchase of more than 1,000,000 tickets for the 1955 season in event the deal went through, lost hope earlier in the evening when reports had it that Kansas City's chances of getting the franchise were "about 50-50."

The citizens last August approved overwhelmingly a $2,000,000 bond issue with which to purchase Blues Stadium, home of the city's American Association entry, and enlarge it from 16,000 to 36,000 seating capacity.

HEADLINE NEWS
The Kansas City Star, which usually reserves such headlines for world wars or truces, streamered the news "Kansas City goes big league."

Few, if any fans, even considered the possibility of some last minute move keeping the franchise in Philadelphia. The Mack family, which has controlled the A's since their beginning in 1901, has been given until Monday to sell their stock in the club.

Mayor William E. Kemp commented: "It's a great day for Kansas City." He said he felt the club owners have vindicated "our own appraisal that big league baseball is feasible in Kansas City."

Although it dates back to horse and buggy days, Kansas City was in the big leagues once before. In 1884, the city had a franchise in the old "Union Association" along with 12 others, eight of them now in the majors. Kansas City had a stand with the National League in 1886 when it finished seventh. It has been a member of the American Association since 1902.

A charter member of the league, the Athletics in 54 years, 50 of them under the direction of Connie Mack, won nine league and five world championships. Only the New York Yankees have done better among American League teams.

It was just 25 years ago Tuesday that the club had what was probably its finest hour. That was Oct. 12, 1929, in the fourth game of the world series against the Chicago Cubs. The Athletics led the series, 2-1, but were downed, 8-0, to the National League champions in the seventh inning when they scored 10 times and won the game, 10-8. The series ended the next game with the Athletics defeating the Cubs, 3-2.

American League Approves A's Shift to Kansas City

CHICAGO (AP)—A milestone in baseball was passed late Tuesday night. American League club owners ended a hectic nine-hour meeting with a unanimous vote to shift the 54-year-old franchise of the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City.

The decision all but broke up the large hold on baseball of the Mack family. It signaled the finish of one vivid chapter in the United States' national pastime that was etched by the pioneering Connie Mack and opened what should be another under Chicago financier Arnold Johnson.

The 47-year-old Johnson's bid of $3,375,000 to buy out the Macks, Roy, Earle and Connie, including Connie Mack Stadium, was irresistible. Will Harridge, president of the American League, said it was the only "sound" offer made.

Officially, the deal will not be closed until Monday. In what was assumed to be merely a gesture, Roy Mack was given until 10 a.m. C.S.T. on that day to announce if he will sell his stock to Johnson.

Johnson, who conferred more than once during the day with Roy, was satisfied the deal was closed. He said he would order engineers to start work today in double-decking the Kansas City Stadium to increase seating capacity from 16,000 to 36,000 by the start of the 1955 season.

He said he plans to sell Connie Mack Stadium to Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, who has been leasing it from the Macks

FISH AND SHIPS

Flapping like a giant, fleshy bat, the stingray is an early prototype of the Douglas XF4D-1, with its "delta" wings.

Nature discovered the "wing" area on the thresher shark was too small for maneuverability. So it gave the fish an oversized vertical tail. Aircraft engineers on short-winged aircraft are solving the problem the same way.

Razor-thin, straight-wing plane, like this Lockheed, was anticipated in the fish world with the design of the slim, stub-finned member of the swordfish family.

THE QUEST FOR AIRPLANE SHAPES that would be most efficient at supersonic speeds has become a grim race for survival. Aircraft designers argue heatedly the advantages of swept wing, straight wing and delta (triangular) wing. They might consider that the argument began some 40,000,000 years ago, when Nature faced the problem of getting the denizens of the deep off the ground. Nature never arrived at a single solution either—it came up with swept wings, straight wings and deltas, as seen below.

South Dakota Prison Riot Ends Peaceably

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Their 23-hour riot ended, convicts at South Dakota state penitentiary went back to normal behavior today.

The revolt stopped Tuesday 25 minutes after the nearly 300 milling rioters in a large cell block were ordered to release the guards they held as hostages or else "face the consequences."

The ultimatum by Governor Sigurd Anderson and Warden G. Norton Jameson came as some 200 armed National Guardsmen, sheriff's deputies and other officers stood outside the block.

The hostages, George Read and E. F. Lamberston, were freed and escorted to safety by 25 highway patrolmen, who were sent unharmed to the block gate.

The guards said they hadn't been hurt or even seriously threatened.

Anderson called the outbreak an "unnecessary riot" and said he will order an investigation into its cause.

Liver Complaint Giving Doctors Serious Concern

Incidence Doubles
4 Years in Row

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

BUFFALO (AP)—A serious liver disease, infectious hepatitis which can become jaundice, is on the rise, the American Public Health Association was warned today.

It's caused by a virus which invades the liver, and sometimes kills. It makes victims feel miserable, with pain, fever and nausea. It turns some of them yellow with jaundice.

Dr. William R. Stinger of Eloise, Mich., said the number of reported cases of infectious hepatitis has doubled each year during the last four years, with 33,000 cases in 1953. It's a major public health problem in the United States, he said.

RURAL AREAS HIT

It usually hits adults harder than children, and is more common in rural areas and suburbs than in cities. There's no good remedy, other than bed rest, careful diet, and avoiding things which might be hard on the liver. For adults, that means no alcohol for six months or more.

The virus can be transmitted through water contaminated by sewage, and is resistant to ordinary methods of water purification. And many people can be carriers of the virus for months or years after they first become infected with it.

The blood medicine gamma Globulin, used to help prevent polio, can help prevent infectious hepatitis if given soon enough. And good defences against it, said Dr. Stinger, are good personal hygiene and proper disposal of sewage.

Richmond, Lansdowne Intersection Marked

Saanich Authorizes New Stop Signs For Protection of School Children

Saanich Council Tuesday took action to improve the traffic situation at the corner of Richmond and Lansdowne School where hundreds of school children cross to attend the new Lansdowne Junior High School.

Traffic at the road intersection has been the subject of complaints from parents.

Council passed a by-law ordering the placing of four stop signs at the road intersection. And it also ruled that no cars will be allowed to park on either side of Richmond Road from Argyle Avenue to Forrester Street between the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Crs. Stanley Eden and R. M. Grant told the council that no time should be wasted to improve the traffic situation in view of the large number of children in the area.

"If we wait and consider this problem before taking action, we may have a fatality," said

Cir. Grant. "We should waste no time in taking action."

Lower Island Auto Crashes Injure Five

Heavy Malahat Traffic Blocked

A Vancouver man suffered a possible fractured neck, and three Victorians received minor injuries in auto accidents on the weekend.

Lino Cedovrato, Vancouver, suffered neck injuries Sunday on the Island Highway near the Bamberton cut-off when he was involved in a three-car crash.

According to reports, a pickup truck passing a line of cars was forced by approaching cars to cut back into the line.

Mr. Cedovrato applied his brakes to make room for the truck, but his car was thrown across the centre line of the highway and struck by a car driven by Albert M. Biecroft, Cumberland. Immediately following it was hit from behind by a second car driven by Charles Lambier, Victoria.

TRAFFIC DELAYED

Following the second collision, Mr. Cedovrato's car crashed into the guard rail on the east side of the highway. Traffic was held up while the damaged cars were moved.

Mrs. J. Maunsell, Victoria, suffered fractured ribs, cuts and shock when her car crashed into a ditch at Shawinigan Lake Tuesday night. Her daughter, Melinda, and Veronica Lonsdale, passengers in the car, suffered cuts and shock.

Mrs. Maunsell's husband is Rev. John Maunsell, chaplain at Shawinigan Lake School.

Mrs. Kate Martin, Nanaimo, received bruises and face abrasions when her car left the road near Sooke Tuesday. She was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital at noon, and was later released.

Limit Raised On Part of Sooke Road

SOOKE—Speed limit on the Sooke Road between Glen Lake and Kangaroo Road will be raised from 30 to 40 miles per hour. It was announced at the regular meeting of Sooke-Jordan River Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber has contended for some time that the old limit was "over-cautious," particularly in view of recent improvements to the road.

The secretary presented information that showed a hospital project for Sooke cannot be considered seriously for some years.

Annual meeting will be held Nov. 13, when the election of officers will take place. Annual banquet will be held a week later at Sooke Harbor House.

Visiting Foresters Examine Island Mill, Pulp, Processes

By DON INGHAM
Times Island Editor

NANAIMO — Foresters en route to the Canadian Institute of Forestry convention in Victoria on Tuesday watched the industrial processes that transform a standing tree into finished lumber and pulp.

A party of close to 100 was at the huge Mossman division sawmill of MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. in Port Alberni sharp at 8 Tuesday morning.

All sections of the mill were inspected, from the head saw where logs are first cut, to the specialized machines that cut siding, mouldings, and other forms of building material.

SAVE MILL WASTE

Emphasis was laid on the methods by which all waste products from the milling operations are screened, in order that suitable pulp material will be conveyed to the adjoining pulp mill, and the remainder burned for production of steam power.

The party reached Nanaimo in time to drive close to 20 miles inland to operations of the company's Nanaimo River camp.

Kiernan Admits Can't Solve Farm Flooding

DUNCAN — Cowichan Agriculture Society directors have learned with dismay that B.C. Minister of Agriculture Kenneth Kiernan has no solution for the problem of riverbank erosion and farmland flooding.

Mr. Kiernan has written the society that his department couldn't undertake to solve riverbank decay caused by high water. "I regret am unable to advise of any satisfactory method by which this problem can be met at present," he wrote.

Directors say months of work with various government departments has thus come to naught but they will lay the case before Premier Bennett and also B.C. Federation of Agriculture's November 23-24 convention in Vancouver.

The Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit will be permitted to use the volunteer firemen's recreation hall as a centre for the well-baby clinic, subject to consent of the firemen's committee.

APPROVE SIGNS

Consideration was given to recommendations of the police commission for warning signs proposed to be erected at school and other traffic points. These recommendations will be forwarded to the provincial authorities.

Clr. Peter Warren was elected to act with Reeve Pickles as a voting delegate to attend the UBCM convention opening in Victoria Oct. 20.

At the conclusion of the council session, aerial photographs covering the entire Central Saanich area were studied. They were taken by the air division of the provincial lands and forests department.

Brentwood WI Elects New Executive

BRENTWOOD — Brentwood Women's Institute elected a slate of officers, with exception of the president, at its annual meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The retiring president, Mrs. Charles Douglas, presided.

The new officers elected were Miss Hester Howard, vice-president; Mrs. George Bickford, recording secretary; Miss Isabel Howard, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herman Wood, treasurer; Mrs. William Parker and Mrs. Jean Combe, directors.

It was moved that a letter be forwarded to the provincial minister of education asking the government to work out a plan for the training of dental surgeons in the province. Action taken was the outcome of a request received seeking support for a chair of dental surgery at the University of British Columbia.

Arrangements will be made for the calling of a meeting in the immediate future for the study of civil defence, when a special speaker will outline the aims of the organization.

Soldier Gives Trio Of Sons to Services

BY ROY THORSEN

Three sons of a Victoria former regimental sergeant-major whose booming, gravel-voiced snarl "smartened-up" many a parade overseas in the Second World War have decided to follow in their father's footsteps.

They are Thomas, James and Stanley L. Stothard, of 2251 Cadboro Bay Road, sons of former top WO1 with the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) overseas.

Tom, aged 17, and Jim, 18, have been accepted by the RCAF and are now in training in the east. Fourteen-year-old Stanley has made a good beginning as a young soldier. He is a lance-corporal in the Scottish Cadet Corps.

"Good for youth this service life," was the opinion of the gruff-spoken but personable ex-RSM. His wife, Lavinia, also has no objection to military-minded sons. He is the superintendent of the Mountain View Home for aged men.

L-Cpl. Stothard was one of those who got a firm handshake from Brig. Fred N. Cabeldu, CBE, DSO and Bar, ED, commander of the Scottish in the assault onto the beaches of Normandy 10 years ago, when he inspected the cadet corps last week.

"It is inspiring to see you, the youth, carrying on in the footsteps of the soldiers of the regiment," said the multi-decorated war leader. "It is great training for youth and if you put your whole heart and soul into it you'll get more out of it than you put into it." Brig. Cabeldu, who donned khaki in 1925, told the budding soldiers of the pride they had in winning their first stripe.

"I am positive that what I have seen tonight you will become Scottish soldiers we can be proud of," he said. He presented athletic trophies won last summer by cadets at Kelowna and also certificates of qualification won at the Vernon summer camp.

Forestry Cameraman Screens Tree Movies

A general meeting of the Victoria Natural History Society in the provincial library Tuesday heard Robert Goulding, photographer for the public relations and education division of the British Columbia Forest Service, speak and show films on tree plantations in British Columbia. A film was also shown on trees of this continent and seasonal changes. Another film was shown on sea birds, which included pelicans, seagulls and cormorants.

Professor C. D. Lowe presided.

Prominent Bowler, Capt. J. H. Cattroll Dead; Rites Thursday

A prominent member of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, Capt. John Hays Cattroll, 1017 Oliver Street, died here last Saturday.

Capt. Cattroll was 66. Born in Liverpool, England, he came to Victoria 20 years ago after living in Ottawa and Winnipeg.

He was a member of Ashlar Lodge AF & AM, in Ottawa, and of Scottish Rite (Rose Croix).

Capt. Cattroll is survived by his wife, Ada Louis (Doll); two daughters, Mrs. Kirby A. (Patricia) Herschmer, Montreal, and Mrs. W. L. (Dorcen) Ferguson of Winnipeg; four grandchildren; two brothers, William of Ottawa and George in New Zealand.

Funeral services will be held at McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel at 3 p.m. Thursday, Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiating. Cremation will follow.

Color Curtain Still Lowered

Governors Seen Moving Toward Settlement Behind Tight-Lipped 'No-Publicity' Screen

By TONY DICKASON

Increasing numbers of the public today believe attitude of the Board of Governors of Shawnigan Lake School on the "Hewitt affair" is "if we ignore it, maybe it will go away."

This was pointed up at a board meeting five days ago which met to discuss demands of Jamaica's accountant-general, N. B. Holtz, that his daughter Dorothy, married to one of the masters, be allowed to return to the school.

She was asked to leave, she said, because of the color of her skin. Mr. Holtz demands a complete apology, plus travelling expenses.

There was no public statement made following the board meeting, but it is believed governors have answered Mr. Holtz demands, by acquiescence or some other method.

Attempts to contact members of the board of governors by the press on the international incident go unanswered. On five recent occasions Victoria barrister and board member, J. Y. Copeman, has been "very busy" when informed it was the press calling.

One master at the school told the Times "we have been told to say nothing."

John Michael Hewitt, groom in the affair, also has not been informed of the steps the board might be taking.

"They have told me nothing about it," he said today.

Another spokesman at the school said, despite the adverse publicity across the nation, attitude is still that "the matter should not go any further than the school gates."

Mr. Holtz said from Jamaica Tuesday there would be "no purpose" in a trip to the school by himself and his daughter until a thorough apology and trip expenses has been met. The board earlier had termed the affair a "regrettable misunderstanding" and suggested father and daughter come to the school and talk matters over.

Mr. Holtz said no purpose would be served by a controversy over words. It was "plain . . . that the board of governors would not permit a mixed marriage." The board has never denied that this was the nub of the entire incident. His daughter should be allowed to return "in the exercise of rights that every human being should enjoy in a civilized and Christian world," he said.

Leisure's Cost Seen Boosting Cost of Living

The high cost of leisure has become partly responsible for the high cost of living, M. P. Hughes of London, Ont., president of the Life Underwriters Association of Canada, told a meeting of the Victoria Life underwriters Tuesday.

"It is seldom recognized as such," he said. "But everyone is entitled to his share of leisure and happiness. The well-organized person, however, seems to get a good share of both, while the unorganized individual finds life a series of continuous frustrations and panics, and is seldom happy."

"Every life underwriter has it in his power to be so well organized that he can achieve much happiness for himself and his family. With so many opportunities all around us in this great country of ours, the pride of accomplishment is constantly motivating us."

85,000 MARK COLUMBUS DAY IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Eighty-five thousand marchers honored Christopher Columbus, on Tuesday, on New York's Fifth Avenue, while a crowd estimated by police at 800,000 persons watched in record hot weather.

It was 85.2 degrees at 3.55 p.m., breaking the previous mark for October 12 of 83.3, set in 1928.

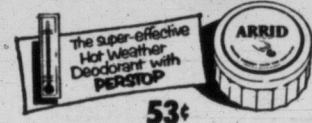

Most of the four-hour parade had some bearing on the discoverer of America.

Boisterous Vancouver Reception Marks End of St. Roch's Sea Days

VANCOUVER (CP)—The rugged little RCMP Arctic schooner St. Roch came home Tuesday to a tumultuous welcome.

Looking as trim and jaunty as a Mountie in full dress scarlet uniform, the veteran explorer of the polar seas steamed into Vancouver harbor to complete her last voyage and go into retirement.

A full civic reception, complete with the din of hooting whistles and screaming sirens of a gaily-decked welcoming fleet, greeted the 80-ton vessel, conqueror of the Northwest Passage and first ship to circumnavigate the North American continent.

The St. Roch, which made Vancouver her home port during her long Arctic career, is being purchased by the city and will be given a final resting place in Stanley Park as a monument to the courage and devotion to duty of Arctic sailors.

Mayor Fred Hume headed a civic welcoming committee that greeted the St. Roch as she steamed proudly into the harbor at the head of the welcoming fleet. Behind her loomed the big Royal Canadian Navy patrol ship Labrador, which recently followed the trail blazed by the St. Roch through the Northwest Passage.

The Labrador waived naval tradition to allow the St. Roch to enter the harbor first. The navy traditionally leads any flotilla into port when it is taking part in a ceremony.

Meanwhile the St. Roch Foundation, a society formed to enshrine the famous Arctic ship as a museum, has begun collecting $65,000 needed to install the vessel in the park.

RELIEF PROMISED

For Arthritic and Rheumatic Pain

New relief without pills by greaseless, odourless, stainless cream.

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—Discovery of an entirely new method of relieving pain has been announced here. Science has now developed a cream that acts in a new way to bring relief from arthritic, rheumatic and muscular aches and pains. Sold under the brand name "InfraRUB," this new odourless and greaseless cream relieves these pains without the need of pills and other internal medicines.

InfraRUB does not merely set up a surface irritation but penetrates the "skin barrier"—goes to work to relieve pain deep down in muscles and joints. The bloodstream carries the soothing medication right to the seat of trouble where it actually helps drive away pain—causing congestion and pressure.

Another feature of InfraRUB that appeals to so many people is its ease of application. No long and painful rubbing is necessary as InfraRUB penetrates in a few seconds and vanishes with a moment's light massage. InfraRUB leaves no oily film or pungent objectionable odour on the skin. Users find they are able to put on clothing in complete safety immediately after application.

Written medical reports on the success of this new help for patients suffering from rheumatic and arthritic pains and general muscular aches and pains have been prepared, based on hundreds of cases in British and French hospitals. InfraRUB users claim almost immediate relief from rheumatic and arthritic pains, sore muscles and joints.

Now for the first time, InfraRUB can be obtained without a prescription from your local drug store for only $1.39. InfraRUB is guaranteed to give hours of comforting relief from arthritic, rheumatic and muscular aches and pains or your money refunded in full.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

A gentleman in the clothing business made a statement to me yesterday, and I have been brooding about it ever since. (I brood easy, but I heal quick).

The man told me the male vest is not long for this world.

In fact, he said, even today the ready-made suit equipped with vest is a rarity. And of those fastidious individuals who purchase their suits tailored-to-measure, less than one-fifth request a vest.

Not only that, but the vest-choosing minority is 50 years of age or older.

Which clearly indicates that, once these men have gone the way of all flesh, the vest, too, will be finally, irrevocably, and forever removed from our midst.

This is a frightening development, comparable historically only with the fall of the Roman Empire and the disappearance of the 5-cent cup of coffee.

In my opinion, a man without a vest is hardly a man at all.

How can a man lay down the letter of the law to his wife and offspring unless he is wearing a vest?

When laying down the letter of the law to wife, etc., a man needs to teeter back and forth on his heels, in front of the fireplace, with his thumbs hooked into the armholes of his vest.

Teetering back and forth with his thumbs hooked into the place where the armholes of his vest would be if he had a vest is a poor substitute, and apt to be damaging to the manly bosom, if the thumb-nails are on the over-long size.

In its heyday, the vest was a great asset to a man, especially the man who values a trim, svelte appearance. Is a vest helpful to male morale? Of course it is.

Also, vests have such a wonderful array of pockets in which to mislay things. When a man wears a vest, he never lost the train or theatre tickets by leaving them on the bureau. He lost them in one of his vest pockets, and could sincerely say, without fear or contradiction, "They aren't lost, I know where they are, it's just that I can't find them."

Which brings me to believe the disappearance of the male vest is a dark female plot.

The females became alarmed because they had only a handbag in which to lose things, while the male had pockets all over the place.

The cunning females realized some of the male pockets had to go. As it was out of the question to eliminate trouser pockets without also eliminating trousers, they connived to persuade males to discard vests.

It is time vests were restored to the masculine public. As a start, the clothing manufacturers should launch a vast advertising campaign, and I am glad to suggest the first singing commercial, with Mart Kennedy's orchestra providing the music:

"A vest, is best, on you dear . . . you're a wondrous dream come true . . . without a vest, you see dear, for me you just won't do . . ."

The League of Roses (Lanes and Yorks) will hold their annual banquet at the Golden Slipper Room, 1318 Broad Street, at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Mabel Child, 1070 Davie, was found guilty of careless driving and the reserved decision of Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today was that the accused had been driving too fast when she struck a child Sept. 21. Three-year-old Brenda Thomas, 951 Bank, suffered leg bruises. Neighbors to the little girl testified that the car which struck her had been approaching "fast" and the driver was blowing the horn. Fine was set at $50 or six days and the accused will have her license suspended.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett today indicated he favors devaluation of Canada's dollar, or Federal control of its value on the world's money markets.

Discussing trade commission-er Einar Gunderson's current trip to the United Kingdom and western Europe, the premier said "Ottawa should take a more realistic view regarding the value of our currency."

"I am not in favor of Canada having the highest priced currency in the world," he said. "It is like a merchant boasting his prices higher than his competitors."

DROODLES

I just showed this Doodle to my colleague, Dr. Kitzenger, and he got excited and began hollering things like, "Who said you were an Artist." "Where'd you learn to draw?" and "Let's go down and get a couple beers." I refused (in spite of the fact that he offered to let me buy) because of an unpleasant experience I once had with Dr. K. We had stopped in a 3rd Ave. tavern to get out of the heat and he immediately insisted on buying beer for all the "girls" who worked there. He also fell in love at first sight with one of the "girls," a 200-pound Russian lady named Tanya Roskolnikov who was employed as cook. This resulted in a fist fight between Tanya and Dr. K. in which she settled his hash with a series of jabs to the head and a bolo punch. (Come to think of it—it wasn't such an unpleasant experience at that).

NEW TRIAL GRANTED HERE IN MANSLAUGHTER CASE

A new trial was granted by the B.C. Court of Appeal here today to Charles Robinson, of Prince Rupert, who was convicted by an Assize Court jury in June of this year of manslaughter arising from the death of Ann Sanpere.

Robinson was accused of pushing the woman down a flight of stairs at a drinking party at a friend's home in Prince Rupert. The woman, who lived with the accused, died the following day from head injuries received in the fall.

The Crown at the trial claimed the accused failed to take proper care of the woman when she was suffering from her injuries. The accused, it was claimed, took her home in a taxi in an unconscious condition and failed to call a doctor immediately.

Appeal Court granted the accused a new trial mainly on the grounds that the Crown had failed to prove that Robinson did not take proper care of the woman.

Woods Expert Scores B.C. Forests Rules

Management Plan Regulations 'Too Rigid'
Elk River Co. Forester Tells Convention

Criticism of provincial legislation with regard to forest management licenses was voiced in the theme address of Canadian Institute of Forestry conference which opened today at Empress Hotel.

Speaker was F. D. Mulholland, chief forester of Canadian Western Lumber Co. Ltd. and Elk Falls Co. Ltd. He objected to legislation on the question of "sustained yield" in tree cutting.

The term has come to have many meanings, he said, and even foresters have difficulty in defining the principle.

Mr. Mulholland called for its elimination from statute when apparently it is impossible to achieve.

Literally, he defined the term as meaning "daily production" of lumber. But, he said, the effective unit of time for trees and men, income and taxes, is a year, and therefore sustained yield is annual production.

He said that legislation requires the cut in a forest management license "must be adjusted to the sustained yield capacity of the license area."

NOT DESIRABLE

"Sustained yield is a matter for foresters, not government, he said. Limitation of yield to a set volume is not desirable in forest management, he went on.

The businessman, the forester and the government each play a role in the forests, said the speaker. The first looks after markets, utilization and labor, the forester covers reforestation, protection and improvement of production, and the government's contribution is called enabling legislation and services.

"These last are noble words," said Mr. Mulholland. "Enable and 'serve' are much better for a government banner than 'restrict' and 'dictate'."

B.C. is not yet on a sustained yield basis, he continued, and it can't be unless the standard for the principle is lowered.

"There is no excuse for premature legal enactments, and partly thought out, undiscussed regulations. We need binding laws to keep the forests green, education by examples of crown forests under conversion, sustained yield in the forest and out of the law books," the speaker said.

The three-day conference was opened by deputy minister of forests, Dr. C. D. Orchard, in the absence of R. E. Sommers, minister of lands and forests for B.C.

President W. A. E. Pepler, manager of woodlands section, Canadian Pulp and Paper Ltd., Montreal, warned of a possible conflict between forestry, agriculture and wild life over use of forest lands, and emphasized that public education was important in averting such conflict.

More than 150 foresters and wives are in attendance and will hear Times publisher Stuart Keate address the annual banquet Thursday at 7 p.m.

1,000 More Jobs In Alcan Expansion

$45 Million Addition Ordered at Kitimat

By TOM GOULD—Times Legislative Reporter

Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced today Alcan will embark on an immediate $45,000,000 expansion program, in the face of charges his government is "selling out" to a rival aluminum producer.

The premier's announcement came as Ottawa reports indicated Kaiser Aluminum will be blocked by federal government from building a low-level storage dam on Lower Arrow Lakes, near Castlegar.

Alcan officials in B.C. declined official comment on the effect the cheap water power made available to Kaiser would have on the Canadian firm, but the premier said "nothing speaks more eloquent than a fact."

"Alcan will spend $45,000,000 installing a fourth generating unit, and two additional potlines. This will bring the firm's capacity from the present 91,500 tons a year to 151,500 tons.

START IN SPRING
Alcan officials in Vancouver said the expansion program will mean jobs for 1,000 permanent employees when completed, and will result in an additional 5,000 person population jump at Kitimat and Kemano.

They stressed, however, that although some preparatory work will be under way this winter, the major portion of the work will have to wait until early spring.

Alcan officials said the new units were contained in the firm's long-range plans, but that a stepping-up of the program was necessitated by the world demand for aluminum.

Company officials privately believe the B.C. government's plan to award Kaiser Aluminum water storage rights on the Arrow Lakes would probably result in Alcan's losing some part of the American market.

NOT CRIPPLING BLOW

They said the U.S. tariff wall, plus cheaper electrical power, would enable Kaiser to under-sell Alcan's Canadian-produced aluminum. However, because the over-all aluminum market is expanding so rapidly, and because Alcan holds long-term contracts, the Kaiser concession would not pose a crippling blow.

"Kaiser would be able to undersell us in the big American market, and use Canadian water to do it," said one spokesman.

The Kaiser firm and the B.C. government have signed a conditional agreement whereby Kaiser will construct a $25,000,000 low-level storage dam.

Saanich CCF Asks Investigation of BCE Operations

A request for a complete investigation into the operations of the B.C. Electric Co. and its subsidiaries, was made Tuesday night by the Saanich CCF Association to Saanich Council.

The request was turned over by the council to its power, light and transportation committee for consideration.

The association urged the investigation with a view to comparing the company's operations with conditions in areas where power and transportation are publicly owned.

Mr. Robert Fleming made a similar suggestion at a previous council meeting, but failed to get the support of the council to conduct an investigation into public ownership of power.

Applications are now being received at the VLA offices, 709 Belmont Building.

A course running on Thursday nights will start Oct. 21 in the North Saanich Junior and Senior High School near Sidney. Veterans may register at the school board office, Sidney.

Hit-Run Motorist Pays $80 in Fines

Bernard C. O'Neill, 2620 Wark, paid $80 in fines in city police court today after pleading guilty to charges of careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident. He was sentenced to $40 fine or six days for each offense.

Court was told that O'Neill was located later by police and told them that "I . . . he knew no one was injured and felt the accident was not his fault so he could see no reason for stopping." Damages amounted to $350.

AND WHAT SAY THE FAIR SEX ABOUT THIS SAANICH COUNCIL ARGUMENT?

Which is Better Worker? Married Woman or Husband-Hunter?

Who make the best workers, married or single women? Saanich Reeve Joseph Casey and Councillor Eden don't agree. The reeve says single women are more efficient; Mr. Eden prefers married women as municipal employees, or that both have equal status.

Mr. Eden started the discussion at council meeting Tuesday when he proposed a change to the ruling which gives preference to single women seeking jobs in the municipality. He urged single and married women should be treated equally because the municipality was losing its most experienced workers under the edict. The present policy was that a woman employee had to give up her job once married.

"We train women and then force them to quit work when they get married," said Mr. Eden. "So they go to work in the City Hall or someplace else. So we have to train another girl and lose valuable time and efficiency."

Reeve Casey said statistics showed the single women were more efficient than married ones.

"I don't give a hoot about statistics," said Mr. Eden. "I know of some big business establishments in Victoria which are hiring married women because they are more reliable."

To back up his argument, Mr. Eden said single girls went out dancing late, "Young girls burn the midnight oil," he added. "Married women take their work more seriously."

"Married women get babies and have to get time off," interjected the reeve. "Anyway, they don't stay with us long."

The reeve also pointed out that girls who got married always asked for time off to go on a honeymoon. "One girl asked for six months' leave of absence," he said.

Mr. Eden replied that he had made a motion refusing the application for the leave of absence.

"A honeymoon is a honeymoon," he said. "Two weeks is enough. But that is only one case. I would like to see a change of policy so girls we have trained won't have to quit when they get married."

The council decided to refer the matter of employment to a special committee with instructions that it use its own discretion. But the ruling that with regard to the employment of single girls as municipal employees was not changed.

Look Here! New Neckpieces Of Little White Fox Heads

By PENNY SAVER

I picked the perfect moment! The very minute I stepped into the shop, the salesgirl cut the string on a big and intriguing-looking parcel. It was early morning, and the customer rush had not yet begun, so the other clerks and I crowded around to get a peek at the newly-arrived merchandise. Off came the string and heavy brown paper, then the lid of the cardboard box. With that there were a series of O-o-hs and a-a-hs and I think it was me that gave the biggest one.

For there, huddled together in the big box, were scores of little white fox heads! Each one had beady black eyes and a shiny black nose and, although it was apparent that the heads were actually created from rabbit fur, I almost felt sorry for the little critters.

I soon overcame that thought and wanted to wear one 'round my neck when I discovered that that's what they're for. I know that you've seen those popular sweater and dress accessories made from two white rabbit pom-poms tipping each end of a black velvet cord. Well, these novel neckpieces are actually the same, but instead of having to knot the cord, or tie it in a bow, there is a white fox head slide to hold it securely around your neck. Bet you get lots of compliments when you wear this unusual neckpiece which sells at the reasonable price of $1.25.

If you've a sprouting Barbara Ann on your hands, I can guess that she's wanting to look the part. After you're outfitted her with a short, swirling skirt and warm sweater blouse, why not tickle her fancy by getting her a white Angora 'bonnet' just like Barbara Ann Scott's?

It'll become the most prized possession in her wardrobe, I know, and what's more, it's practical. You see, the fuzzy, soft bonnet hugs the head and comes right down over the ears as a wonderful protection against chills. It won't stretch out of shape, I will guarantee, for hidden inside the wool is a springy band of metal to assure snugness.

And if ever you have any qualms about letting Susie wear white, remember this: Barbara Ann bonnets are made to wash easily and many, many times. They dry quickly, too, for you see they are 50 per cent nylon and 50 per cent pure Angora wool. Price? A mere dollar here, for the hats are only $1.95.

Just had an idea: The fox head neckpieces I chatted about several paragraphs back would look terrific worn on the blouse of the skating suit. And, being white, they'd match her Barbara Ann bonnet perfectly!

Candy, Dorcas secretary. Mrs. W. Newby was convener and Mrs. S. C. Hawkins was in charge of floral arrangements. Mrs. G. James and Mrs. C. Milne presided at the head table and Mrs. F. Goodwin contributed several enjoyable vocal solos during the afternoon.

WHY GROW OLD?

Exercise Can Make Your Days Sparkle

There are a few little tricks which can change a day which is dulled by fatigue into one which sparkles with enthusiasm.

We are all acquainted with the mid-morning and mid-afternoon slump. This is sometimes due to the fact that we are hungry. We all know that children become tired and cross when they need food. Mine always get a headache. Sometimes the same thing happens with grownups. One rule for avoiding fatigue is to eat often.

This is a dangerous thing to say to women because so many of them wish to lose weight and we are always warning them about between-meal snacking. However, whether you wish to lose weight or not, your mid-morning and mid-afternoon pickup should be counted in with your daily allowable calorie count and will help you avoid that tired feeling.

Milk or fruit juice are best. A large glass of orange juice is especially good, not only because of its vitamin C content (lack of this vitamin has been correlated with fatigue) but because of its sugar. Try this and see if you get a real pickup from it.

Physical exercise is the best antidote for nervous strain and mental work. Few people have time to invest in a daily game of golf or a tennis match or a long walk. While week-end outdoor life is helpful, the most beneficial of all exercise is that which is taken daily.

A few simple motions which can be indulged in daily at home should be a part of your life. Try this one after a hard day: Lie on your back, arms on the floor overhead. Stretch, making yourself as long as you can. Raise the trunk to a sitting position and touch the floor with your fingers as far to the right of your body as possible. Lie down with your arms overhead. This time lift the trunk and touch the fingers to the floor as far to the left of your body as possible. Lie down again and continue, alternating right and left.

Extreme underweight and poor posture are two of the greatest factors in fatigue. More about those tomorrow.

If you would like to have my leaflet which outlines a program for increasing energy and outwitting fatigue, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 56 "Pep." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by The New Yorker (Mother of 5)

Along about the age of 10 or 12 months some babies show a definite inclination to shy away from a nap. And who's to blame them? There are so many wonderful things to do besides sleep. So when your baby balks at an afternoon siesta, gauge baby's naptime by tiredness instead of your convenience or the clock. And a reassuring hug, a song or a story are usually awfully good calmers-down. Drifting off is easier when baby is relaxed.

Toothsome tale. When sparkly little teeth make their debut, it's time for baby to make the switch from strained-to-more-grown-up foods. Gerber's Junior Foods help baby make the transition with a minimum of trouble... a maximum of pleasure. For they have the tender, evenly-minced bits that tots with a few teeth can manage nicely. Then, too, they have the naturally good flavors and tempting true colors that whet a pint-size appetite. For mealtime variety galore! Fruits, Vegetables, Soups, Meats and Desserts.

Menu magic for high-chair sitters. Gerber's "Recipes for Toddlers" booklet. For free copy, write me at Box 17, Toronto 18, Ontario.

In the bag. Bright brainstorm from an inventive mother! She uses a shoe bag to store her toddler's small toys. The bag, hung low on the inside of the nursery closet, gives baby Susan the opportunity (and fun) of finding and putting away each toy in its special pocket. Mother claims her daughter is learning neatness as well as coordination.

Soothing story. If baby's having trouble cutting teeth, Gerber's Teething Biscuits help provide relief for tender, aching gums. Made from whole-some ingredients, they're smooth-surfaced and extra hard, to give baby real biting satisfaction. Individually wrapped in cellophane—easy to tote when you and baby go out.

PTA NOTES

Strawberry Vale—C. S. Clarke, first president, is to be guest speaker when Strawberry Vale PTA celebrates its 10th birthday Wednesday at 8 in the school. Special novelty program of games and music will be presented.

TODAY'S RECIPE

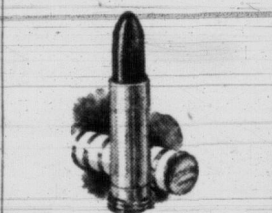

As the weather becomes crisp, we feel more in the mood to do some baking. Homemade cookies always get a loud burst of applause. These "Rich Date Drops" are no exception. You'll be impressed with the delightful flavor and pleasing texture the fresh dates give to the cookies. As a matter of fact, we like to eat this mellow-amber fruit out of hand right as it comes from its attractive cellophane package.

RICH DATE DROPS

Two cups fresh dates, 1 cup walnuts, 1 cup shortening, 1 cup brown sugar (packed), 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Pit and slice dates. Chop walnuts coarsely. Cream shortening and sugars together. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift flour with salt and soda, and blend into creamed mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Makes about five dozen cookies.

Wedding in Church of Our Lord For Grace Shubrook, W. A. Morris

Church of Our Lord was decorated with a profusion of harvest-toned chrysanthemums and dahlias Saturday evening for the wedding ceremony which joined in marriage Grace May Shubrook, daughter of Mrs. C. Shubrook, 602 Frances Avenue, and the late Mr. Shubrook, with Willis Alan Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Morrow, Regina, Sask.

Chaplain H. Pike conducted the ceremony and Miss Grace Adams sang "Love's Coronation." Red and white nosegays marked guest pews.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Dennis Shubrook, the bride was lovely in her gown of sheer white nylon tulle over ivory satin. The crinolined skirt featured a scalloped opening down the front revealing an accordion pleated panel, and the strapless bodice was topped with a lace bolero jacket with stand-up collar and three-quarter length sleeves.

A bonnet headdress of chantilly lace edged with tulle and pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion trimmed with chantilly lace, and she wore white mitts. Red roses, white carnations and freesia formed her cascade bouquet.

Gowns of cherry red faille taffeta fashioned with off-shoulder necklines and crinolined skirts were chosen by the quartette of bridal attendants. They were Mrs. Myrtle Hahn, matron of honor, Mrs. Kay Shubrook, bridesmatron, Miss Lillian Henderson, bridesmaid, and Miss Sharon Morrow, junior bridesmaid. They wore sprays of white chrysanthemums in their hair and carried crescent bouquets of the same flowers with ivy.

Ronald Hahn was best man, and ushers were Harry Wells and Percy Moore.

A reception followed at the Business and Professional Women's Club, where a three-tier wedding cake, topped with two doves holding rings and circled with pink tulle, was flanked with silver vases of pink flowers and white tapers in silver holders. The bride's mother chose a deep blue dress with navy blue accessories and corsage of pink carnations, while the groom's mother was dressed in periwinkle blue with white accessories and pink carnation corsage.

Henry Jarvis proposed the bridal toast.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Spokane, the bride wore a pale blue dressmaker suit with haze blue topcoat, winter white hat, and corsage of pink roses. The newly married couple will live at 1177 Esquimalt Road.

Dorothy Jones Is Bride

Flaxen-haired Dorothy Jones was a lovely Saturday evening bride when she exchanged vows with Clifford Elmer Hume. Her cloud-like gown of net over slipper satin was styled with strapless, fitted bodice of pleated net and lace and was topped with a dainty matching lace jacket. A tiara of pearls and rhinestones held her fingertip veil of net illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and stephanotis. Her jewelry was the groom's gift, a rhinestone necklace with matching earrings.

Tail standard baskets of autumn flowers decorated St. John's Anglican Church for the ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Jacobs, 2440 Mowat Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hume, 1256 Camrose Crescent.

Rev. Canon George Biddle officiated, and Mr. Pat McConachie sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Betty Dunn was matron of honor for her sister, gowned in sapphire blue with strapless lace bodice and net over taffeta skirt. Her lace jacket had a

Peter Pan collar, and she wore a matching flowered cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

Strapless gowns of net over taffeta and lace boleros with Peter Pan collars in pale blue and aqua blue respectively were chosen by bridesmaids Miss Betty Boulton and Miss Margaret Burdon. Their colonial bouquets were of cream bridesmaid chrysanthemums.

The little flower girl was Miss Cheryl Brownlee, in an ankle-length frock of pale yellow net over taffeta with matching bandeau and colonial bouquet of pink chrysanthemums and carnations.

Larry Brownlee was best man, and Don Wilkinson and Al Buchan ushered guests to pews marked with sweet peas.

A reception followed in the Flamingo Room of the Crystal Garden, when guests were welcomed by the bride's mother, wearing a beige sheath dress and matching jacket studded with pearls and rhinestones, dark green accessories, and corsage of flame roses, and the groom's mother, in a twilight blue lace dress with pink accessories, and corsage of Rapture roses, who stood with the newlyweds under an arch of autumn flowers.

The four-tier wedding cake, made and decorated by the bride's stepfather, Arthur Jacobs, was tinted delicate blue and topped with a heart and bell ornament. White tulle and pale blue tapers decorated the table.

J. W. Stewart, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast, and Verne Bryan's orchestra played.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Portland, the bride wore a teal blue suit with box jacket, red accessories, and corsage of white gardenias and stephanotis. Mr. and Mrs. Hume will live at 1707 Richmond Avenue.

Business Women Plan to Meet Civic Candidates

Civic Interest Group of Business and Professional Women's Club is to have an opportunity to hear women candidates in the forthcoming aldermanic elections express their views and aims, according to plans outlined at first fall meeting of the group, held at clubrooms, 904 Government Street.

Mrs. Norma Smith, chairman, gave a general resume of the season's proposed activities and welcomed several new members. Subject of fluoridation of water supplies was brought before the meeting by Mrs. Marie Pickell, who stressed importance of everyone studying the subject closely in event of such a scheme being proposed for Victoria.

It was decided that experts, both for and against fluoridation, be invited to present their views before the group at an early date. Mrs. Vera Carter thanked the speaker for her timely and interesting address. Next meeting will be Oct. 28, when Miss Elizabeth Forbes will speak on the topic, "Women and the Franchise."

Historian Sees Hope For World Despite Strain

Toynbee Finishes 34-Year Project

LONDON (CP)—Dr. Arnold Toynbee, famed British historian, Tuesday marked completion of his monumental 10-volume work—"A Study of History"—with the observation that he remains optimistic about the future of mankind.

He spoke to reporters at a gathering marking publication of the last four volumes of the 3,250,000-word study of 1,000 years of history.

The 65-year-old historian said "atomic missiles now are poised head to head, while minds and hearts are still poles apart."

But, he added, "I am an optimist."

"I don't believe we are going to fight a third world war; I believe we are going to stand the strain of having to live through a long period of nerve-racking 'missionary warfare' with an undramatic ending."

ONE AUTHORITY

Sooner or later, he said, control of atomic energy will pass into the hands of some single world authority. "It is the only condition on which man can go on living on the face of this shrunken and explosive planet."

Discussing his work, which took him 34 years to write, Toynbee said: "Although these books are on the shelf, I'm not."

He already is working on a book on the history of the Greek civilization and at the same time on a compilation of a series of lectures he gave recently at Edinburgh. He leaves in a few weeks for the United States for a lecture tour.

CHILDREN ALCOHOLICS

TORONTO (BUP)—A check of statistics contained in a study of hospital cases showed today that three boys and one girl between five and 14 years were treated as alcoholics in Ontario in 1951.

NEW ROLE FOR STETSON—Actor Edward Purdom poses with Rita Stetson who makes her screen debut in Hollywood's new movie, "The Prodigal." A former New Yorker, and niece of the famous hat company executive, Rita plans to make acting her career.

Population of Japan Swells Million a Year

TOKYO (UP)—Japan's population is increasing at a rate of more than 1,000,000 a year, despite the fact that more than 2,000 Japanese die daily, the welfare ministry announced Tuesday.

National statistics showed there were 914,636 births and 370,454 deaths recorded in Japan during the first six months of 1954—a net gain in population of 544,182. Suicide alone accounted for about 35 deaths a day, the ministry said.

Water for West Road May Be 10 Years Off

Reeve Joseph Casey Tuesday said the time was not yet "ripe" for extending water services to residents of Old West Road and householders may have to wait 10 years before a water main is laid in the district.

Residents in the district have

RC Cathedral Actors Schedule 3-Act Farce

A three-act farce, "No Place Like Home," will be presented by the St. Andrew's Cathedral Drama Club in St. Ann's Academy auditorium at 8.15 p.m. on Oct. 22 and 23.

Featured in the play will be Sheila Reardon, Betty Wainwright, Derek McCoey, Dan Christian, Mickey Muir, May Craycroft, Marjorie Gilbert, Marie Ayling, and Denny Westendale. Director is Lawrence Westendale.

Tickets are on sale at Ward's Music, Broad Street.

asked Saanich council to install water services along the road. Reeve Casey pointed out the council has other commitments before tackling the water problem along Old West Road. "We have promised to bring water to other districts," he explained. "We can't do anything until we have settled these problems."

He pointed out that the municipal engineer's report showed that it would cost the municipality about $30,000 to bring water to the district. This included the cost of a reservoir and water main, he said.

World's largest desert area, the Sahara in North Africa, covers about 3,500,000 square miles.

CRASH IN OIL SHARES HITS AUSTRALIA HARD

SYDNEY (AP)—Crashing oil and uranium stock prices threatened many Australian small investors with the loss of cars, homes and life savings.

Recent weaknesses in the market, it is estimated, wiped $40,000,000 (Australian off oil and uranium shares.

The losses are spread throughout the country, which has dabbled in shares more extensively than at any other time in Australian history.

Many oil and uranium shares are at less than one-third of the price they reached at their peak earlier this year. North Australian Uranium Corporation shares, which sold at 49s 9d in August, sold today at 12s.

JUST For The RECORD

CALF LOVE: In Raleigh, N.C., when the cows came home at W. P. Kirk's farm Monday a deer came with them.

Kirk said the deer had become close friends with a calf.

OOPS: In Chester, Pa., Mrs. Bessie Williams, 67, postponed her test for a driver's license.

She struck a tree Monday en route to the testing grounds.

COPYCAT: In Alhambra, Calif., firemen explained Monday to Gary Hedge, 2½, that there were some places he couldn't follow his pet cat.

The firemen spent 20 minutes rescuing Gary from a hatchway cut for the cat and her kittens in the back door of his home.

OH, COME NOW! A Los Angeles man reported seeing a flying saucer land in MacArthur Park and "a little man in a white suit get out."

A truck then came and carried away both the saucer and the little man, the observer said.

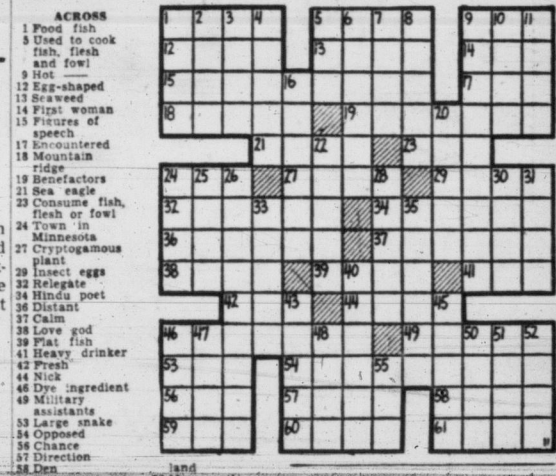

He would have gotten the truck's licence number, he said, except that the fog closed in and he couldn't see anymore.

The witness refused to give his name "because everybody would think I was crazy."

NO PLACE LIKE HOME: In Port Arthur, Ont., Gar Stead went hunting during the weekend. While he was away police shot a 50-pound bobcat that broke into Stead's basement.

HALLELUJAH: In Dallas, Tex., M. L. Gilbert, Concord, Calif., met a man at a bus station who invited him to have cup of coffee. A third man, accosted them and asked about a good hotel.

He said he wasn't a bum and had $1,500 to prove it. Gilbert pointed out he was no bum either and produced a $100 bill. The man Gilbert met first snatched the money and ran away with the third man.

SEATTLE (AP) — With Washington's 1954 hunting season only three days old, the death toll stood at five Tuesday—four from heart attacks and one of a gunshot wound.

200,000 Expected To Attend Annual Plowing Contest
BRESLAU, Ont. (BUP) — Lt. Gov. Louis Breithaupt officially opened the 41st International Plowing Match Tuesday at Breslau for what is expected to be a record four-day run.

A crowd of 200,000 was expected for the show, 50,000 more than last year. Some $4,000,000 worth of farm and home equipment is on display in a tent city covering 50 acres of land, and another 1,800 acres has been set aside for the matches.

Three hundred entrants are competing in the 48 classes on the prize list. The Canadian championships are set for Thursday.

Police Chief Appeals Dismissal
MONTREAL (BUP) — Attorney Jerome Choquette Tuesday filed an appeal for police chief J. Albert Langlois with Quebec Superior Court of Appeals against Langlois' dismissal following a judgment by Mr. Justice Francois Caron Friday.

Choquette said the appeal suspended the dismissal until the case is heard. He said he appeared with Langlois at the court just before closing time. Caron fired Langlois after finding him guilty of tolerating organized gambling and prostitution in Montreal in the period between 1940 and 1950. Caron also barred Langlois from holding public office for a year and fined him $500.

Liberace Engagement Prostrates Women

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Liberace, flooded with weepy phone calls and letters objecting to his romance, said today he won't "sacrifice" his personal life to the public.

The popular bachelorette pianist revealed his rapture for dancer Joanne Rio last week, and the news proved catastrophic to the nation's Liberace adoring. They telephoned, many crying, from around the nation or rushed special delivery letters to their idol.

Liberace's fan mail (6,000 letters weekly) is handled by pretty Sue Roberts. So far, 80 per cent of the letters want Liberace to remain the smiling bachelorette behind his candelabra. The other 20 per cent approves of Joanne, but begrudgingly.

"The day the story broke I thought I'd go wild," Miss Roberts said breathlessly. "Calls from Chicago, New York, Louisville. They'd say, 'is it true?' and start to cry."

A 66-year-old widow from St. Paul wrote, "I feel sorry for your mother. The adoration you give her will have to be shared."

A Richmond Hill, N.Y., letter warned, "Don't get married because your career will be washed down the drain."

"Your appeal is the fact you're single," a Gardena, Calif., woman wrote. "If you have to get married, pick a plain type—not a glamor girl."

A Boston woman advised, "Don't forget Joe DiMaggio and the promises she made to him!" "I lost out again. I love you too much. I can't write no more. I am crying too hard," said a letter from Milwaukee.

From Colfax, Ia.: "Why, oh, why, didn't you wait for me? I'm only 11 but I practice the piano every day."

A Detroit woman scolded, "How can you think of marriage? You belong to us."

A New Orleans great-grandmother inquired, "Will she love you like we do?" "Everything a man is," wrote a Monroe, La., woman, "he owes to his mother and a wife never would make the sacrifices your mother did."

Betty's Farewell Leaves Customers Yelling 'More'

By BOB THOMAS
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Betty Hutton, starting her "farewell" appearance here Tuesday night, disclosed that marriage figures in her retirement plans.

In a furious burst of energy, Miss Hutton swung into her four-week Desert Inn stand, which she swears will be the swan song of her career.

"I'm gonna get married," she told me. "This time I've found the right kind of man. We're going to live quietly." She didn't name her third husband-to-be, but Hollywood knows him to be Alan Livingston, Capital Records executive.

Both he and Miss Hutton are shedding their mates. She was married to dance director

Charles O'Curran, and before that to camera manufacturer Ted Briskin, father of her two daughters.

Betty sang her heart out. On stage for 50 minutes, she sang, danced, and yelled—in a one-woman performance such as Las Vegas has never seen.

Miss Hutton draws $25,000 weekly for four weeks in the Desert Inn room.

NARRIMAN SKIPS OUT

GENEVA, Switzerland (UP)—Egypt's divorced former Queen Narriman skipped out on her surprised second husband today in a dash by plane to Europe.

Her unexpected trip touched off a flurry of speculation that her second marriage was on the rocks.

Her husband, Adham Nakeeb, who was left behind in Egypt, was frankly surprised. Close friends of Narriman in Alexandria also expressed surprise at the sudden trip. They commented that it was pretty expensive for the wife of a doctor who is struggling along on a salary equal to about $143.40 a month.

5-Power Disarmament Parley Asked by Canada

Martin Tells UN Best Solution Is Private Reconciliation Talks

By WILLIAM HARCOURT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada today proposed that the five atomic powers reconvene in an effort to reconcile conflicting proposals for world disarmament. Health Minister Paul Martin called on Britain, the United States, France and the Soviet Union to meet again with Canada to "seek in private an acceptable solution" on disarmament.

These same powers met privately in London last June and evolved the Anglo-French disarmament plan, upon which a proposed Russian disarmament treaty is based.

After Martin spoke, representatives of Britain, the United States and France announced their willingness to co-sponsor the Canadian resolution.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, the Russian delegate, thanked Martin for providing him with an advance text of the resolution but said that a concrete answer to the proposal would have to wait until he had more time to study it.

"The Soviet Union in principle takes a sympathetic view towards such resolutions," Vishinsky said.

Martin spoke before the assembly's 60-nation political committee, now debating the Soviet proposals.

"If we are to have serious and informal examination of the Anglo-French and the Soviet proposals and all other proposals which have been or may be submitted, then I think we must all agree that... there should be an early opportunity for examination of the problem by a smaller group," he said.

Martin tabled a resolution which took notice of the disarmament commission report and the Soviet draft resolution, and concluded that a "further effort should be made to reach agreement on comprehensive and co-ordinated proposals to be embodied in a draft international disarmament convention."

RAN A-WEAPONS

The resolution said it should provide for the regulation, limitation and major balanced reduction of all armed forces and armament. It also calls for the total prohibition of the use and manufacture of nuclear weapons as well as every type of weapons of mass destruction.

B.C. Tories Talks Nov. 13

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Progressive Conservative Association's annual meeting will be held here Nov. 13, provincial leader Deane Finlayson said today.

Some 200 delegates from points throughout B.C. are expected to attend, he said.

Expected to highlight the meeting is the breach between provincial and federal Conservative groups in B.C.

"I'm sure there'll be discussion on the matter," said Mr. Finlayson. Executive of the B.C. association in July at Vernon voted no-confidence in national Tory leader George Drew.

Endorsement of this stand by the annual meeting will likely be asked.

Mr. Finlayson said he plans to put forward a program for reorganization of the party in B.C. that would include a membership drive.

French Design Cops Cesarwits Stakes

NEWMARKET, Eng. (CP)—French Design, a seven-year-old gelding, won the 113th running of the Cesarwits Stakes here today on his fourth attempt.

Starting at 100 to 6 and ridden by Douglas Smith, French Design won an exciting race by three-quarters of a length from the 66-to-1 outsider Earlswood, with Mixed Vermouth, a 20-to-1 chance, two lengths farther away. Thirty-one horses started.

Russians Run Away With Track Meet

LONDON (AP)—Yrri Lituyev of Russia broke the world record for the 440-yard hurdles tonight as Russia piled up a large lead in the Moscow vs. London track and field meet before 40,000 fans at White City Stadium.

Lituyev time was 51.3 seconds.

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union track and field team quickly began piling up tonight a substantial lead in its Moscow vs. London floodlit track and field meet before a crowd of 40,000 at the White City Stadium.

At the request of the Russian visitors a parade of athletes took place in the centre of the arena and in an exchange of greetings a woman spokesman for the Russians gave a call of "long live peace among the peoples of the world."

Then the Russians rushed over and handed large bouquets of flowers to the London squad.

Police Discount Foul Play In Shooting of Bud Nelson

Investigations by RCMP at the scene of Saturday's hunting tragedy at Sooke have disclosed new facts which may discount earlier police theories of foul play, it was reported today.

Police said that results of their investigation will be disclosed at an inquest, tentatively set for Thursday morning.

Police had indicated Tuesday that a charge might be laid in the case. But headquarters here today said that any charge

400 Haitians Killed By Hurricane

Bahamas Appear Next in Line

From AP and UP Dispatches

Hurricane Hazel moved toward the Southeast Bahamas today after killing more than 400 persons and injuring hundreds of others in a devastating path it cut across the island of Haiti.

At Aux Cayes, major town (pop. 20,000) on Haiti's southwest peninsula, unofficial reports indicated 200 persons dead, 350 injured and 800 homeless.

The nearby town of Jeremie was almost totally destroyed. The toll of dead and injured there amounted to 200.

Jeremie's prison hospital was swept away. Homes of suns and priests were washed into the sea. Most of the town's smaller homes were flattened by huge waves.

The hurricane lost some of its force over Haiti but weather observers warned the force of the blow might build up again over open water. The Bahamas Islands battered down as far north as Nassau.

$20,000 Fire In Kimberley Business Area

KIMBERLEY (CP)—Fire believed started by hot ashes in a cafe early Tuesday caused damage estimated at $20,000 in a downtown business block here.

The blaze started in the Elite Cafe, burning out the back of the building and upstairs rooms, and spread to adjoining Faulds Block.

Firemen helped remove some persons sleeping in rooms above the cafe and others were awakened by the cafe owner.

Five other business places were damaged, all being gutted at the rear. Stock and equipment was damaged by smoke and water.

Cousin Acts as Margaret's Escort At Comic Opera

LONDON (Reuters)—Princess Margaret, just back from her vacation in the Scottish highlands, has already entered the winter social whirl—with her cousin, the Earl of Granville, as one of her partners.

Tuesday night the Princess and Granville attended a performance of the comic opera, "The Duenna." Although it was a chilly night, the Princess, protected by a silver mink wrap, wore a ballerina-length summer dress.

The earl, 35, one of the town's most eligible bachelors, is Margaret's first cousin. As a member of the family he has long escorted the Princess to the theatre and parties.

Marcel Theoret Named Secretary to Pinard

OTTAWA (BUP)—Marcel Theoret, former Montreal newspaperman and radio writer, today was named private secretary and executive assistant to Secretary of State Roch Pinard.

Theoret, a native of Beauharnois, Que., and a graduate of the University of Montreal, has been director of French publications for the Ford Motor Company of Canada for the last four years. He also served as a member of the Faculty of Assumption University in Windsor.

He was formerly employed by La Presse in Montreal and as director of publicity for radio station CKDA in Montreal.

Ground Party Finds Plane on Mountain

Crewmen Believed Killed

Wreckage Found At 5,100 Mark

Special To The Times

PARKSVILLE—An RCAF Expediter aircraft missing since Sunday on a flight from Vancouver to Tofino with four men aboard was found at 10.45 a.m. today on Mount Arrowsmith by a ground party.

There was no sign of survivors.

Wreckage was scattered over a wide area on the east slope of the 5,962-foot mountain at the 5,100-foot level.

It was found by a five-man ground party of the alpine division of the mountain emergency squad from Vancouver, a civilian volunteer group of climbers, led by Ulf Butterlich of Port Alberni and brother Adolph of Victoria. They were dropped atop the mountain by helicopter early this morning.

IDENTIFIED

The ground party which found the wreckage contacted a helicopter by walkie-talkie, and positive identification was made of the twin-engine plane at the RCAF base at Comox.

The scattered plane was found in an area which had been flown over dozens of times during the 200 air-search hours by the RCAF in the course of the three-day hunt. It was partially buried in snow.

The Expediter last radioed in at 1.38 p.m. Sunday 6,500 feet over Lantzville while on a routine flight between Vancouver and Tofino. An RCAF spokesman said it must have struck the slopes of Mount Arrowsmith about 15 minutes later.

ICING

He said the fast drop in altitude during the short run could have been caused by icing of the plane as weather was bad at the time. Another 900 feet in altitude and the plane would have cleared the mountain.

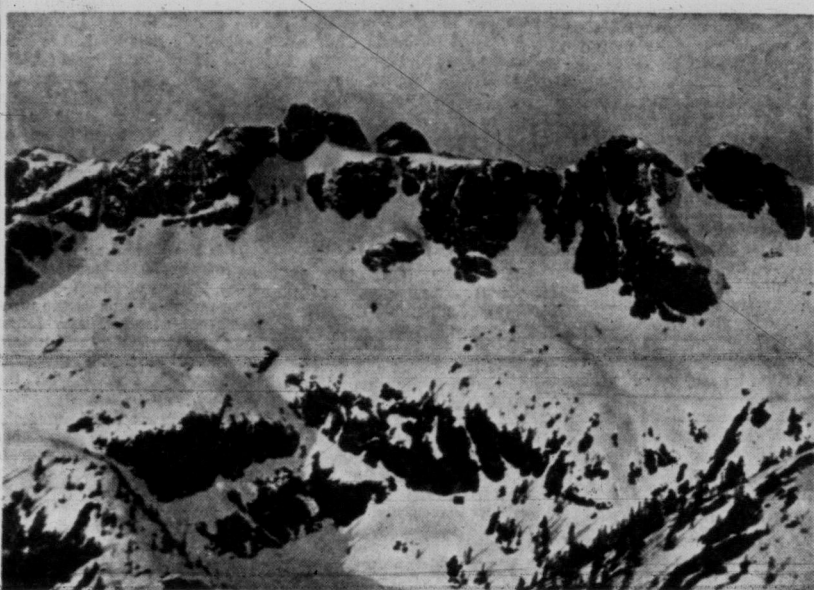

The alpine party was standing by at the crash site and RCAF officials were being flown in to the scene. It is likely bodies will be brought out today.

Bodies when brought out likely will be taken to Parksville. The district coroner has already been notified.

EXPERIENCED MEN

The Bitterlich brothers, experienced climbers, have ascended Mt. Arrowsmith as many as 40 times. They were both hiking at the 3,500-foot level Sunday afternoon when they heard a plane motor "rev" up and then cut out. With them was Fred Zochling, 684 Burnside Road, who described the engine note as "uneven... a rising and falling sound... then nothing." They heard no crash or explosion.

Presumed dead are FO L. E. Oppenheimer, 24, of Winnipeg, pilot of the plane whose wife lives in Vancouver; Sgdn. Ldr. B. G. Stibbards, RCAF chaplain at RCAF headquarters in Vancouver; FO Michael Saunders, 22, of Bristol, England, and R. D. Hall, an engineer, of Beau Repaire, near Montreal.

Where Four Met Death in Crash

Harsh slopes of 5,962-foot Mt. Arrowsmith, 100 miles north of here, have claimed bodies of four aboard RCAF Expediter which crashed on east slope at 5,100-foot level Sunday. Wreckage covered wide area of rough terrain. Bodies will be brought out via helicopter today.

TCA Faces Suit for $4 Million

OTTAWA (BUP)—Claims totaling some $4,000,000 have been filed against the Crown as a result of last April's crash of a Trans-Canada Airlines' North Star near Moose Jaw, Sask., Exchequer Court officials said today.

The 19 claims filed, they said, ranged from $50,000 to "several hundred thousand". The amounts sought were probably based on the number of dependents involved.

It was not yet known whether the Crown planned to put up any defense against the claims.

The crash occurred April 8 and was the worst in TCA's history. Four crew members and 31 passengers, including Progressive Conservative M.P. Rodney Adamson, of Toronto, died when the North Star and an RCAF training plane collided and exploded in the air about mid-day.

London Dock Strike Spreads to Glasgow

LONDON (CP)—Britain's mushrooming dock strike spread to Southampton and Glasgow today, even as a busmen's walkout threw London's surface transport into chaos.

More than 2,000 Southampton longshoremen downed tools in a one-day token stoppage supporting 30,000 men already out in London. And about 1,000 Glasgow dockers staged a lightening strike following a local dispute over pay rates for handling dirty cargo.

The London waterfront stoppage became virtually complete with 2,500 men joining the strike at Tilbury, deep-water port down the Thames from London.

Meanwhile millions of Londoners, deprived Monday of their daily papers by a one-day printers' strike, found their bus service disrupted today.

Nearly 1,200 of the capital's 7,600 double-deck buses and trolley buses were idle after 5,500 conductors and drivers walked off the job in a dispute over new schedules.

The bus strike left 30 of approximately 200 bus routes without transport, and 33 more under-manned. Transport officials feared it might spread to more of the capital's 45,000 operators during the day.

The bus men are protesting new emergency schedules introduced to improve services already depleted by a union ban on overtime, part of a campaign for a raise in wages that now average between 88 and 89 weekly. The strike jacks official union approval.

The waterfront strike, now in its 10th day, involves more than 20,000 dockers and 8,000 ship repair men in a variety of disputes. They may be joined at the week-end by 4,500 tug and barge men now considering a strike call from their union leaders.

Republican Governor Would Ban Defense Secretary to 'Dog House'

CHICAGO (AP)—Governor William G. Stratton, Illinois Republican chief, today suggested cancellation of Defense Secretary Wilson's speech at a Republican fundraising dinner tonight.

But sponsors stood firm in their invitation to Wilson and, at latest report, the governor planned to attend and Wilson planned to be there, too.

Mr. Eisenhower suggested in a statement from his summer White House at Denver that Wilson's statement had been

UNION HANDS OUT WILSON'S DOG FOOD

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Members of the United Steelworkers Union (CIO) showed up at the office of the state employment service today and handed cans of dog food to persons entering the building.

Joseph Molony, state director of the union, said the action expressed the workers' feelings on Defense Secretary Wilson's remarks concerning the unemployed at a recent press conference.

The name of the dog food was "Wilson's."

misconstrued. He said he never found Wilson "indifferent to human misfortune."

Rep. Samuel Yorty (D. Cal.), a candidate for the Senate, sent a telegram to Mr. Eisenhower demanding Wilson's removal. Yorty said "his invidious comparisons of American citizens with dogs is so revolting that it reminds one of the Divine right of tyrant kings during the Dark Ages of human slavery."

Sen. Stuart Symington (D. Mo.) also demanded Wilson's ouster. He said if his "understanding of Mr. Wilson's statement is accurate, he missed a fine opportunity to keep a civil foot in his mouth."

Wilson was defended by John Felkens, chairman of the Michigan GOP state central committee, who said he would match the defense secretary's concern for the jobless against Reuther's anytime. He termed the Democratic charges "sheerest demagoguery."

Chataway Sets New World Record

LONDON (AP)—Chris Chataway of Britain vanquished the mighty Vladimir Kuc of Russia tonight and established a sparkling world record time of 13.51.6 in the 5,000-metre feature event of the Moscow vs. London track and field meet.

The red-headed brewer came piling down the home stretch to edge out the European champion and former world record holder by one foot.

Two Albertans Killed in Crash

TUDOR, Alta. (CP)—Two men were killed today when the cars they were driving, believed to have been travelling in the same direction, missed a sharp curve on a country road near this town 40 miles east of Calgary and plunged into a creek.

Dead are Louis Lapierre and Bill Weir, believed to be about 40, both of Strathmore, Alta.

Minister Seen Giving Up Post

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Free Press says Works Minister W. L. Morton is asking to be relieved from his post in the Manitoba cabinet because of ill health and it is reported that Health Minister F. C. Bell will be named to take his place.

Langlois Ready for 'Holiday'

MONTREAL (BUP)—Montreal police Director J. Albert Langlois was reported today to have agreed to "take a holiday" pending the outcome of his dismissal as police chief of Canada's largest city.

Sources close to Langlois said he had agreed to go on leave after being given a deadline to make up his mind on whether to take the holiday or face other action from the city executive committee.

Employment Seen Labor's Challenge

VANCOUVER (CP)—Assuring employment for Canadian workers is the "greatest challenge" facing organized labor today, President James Barton said in the keynote address opening the second annual convention of the Trades Union Congress of B.C.

Russian Sets New Hurdle Record

LONDON (AP)—Yurii Lituyev of Russia broke the world record for the 440-yard hurdles tonight as Russia piled up a large lead in the Moscow vs. London track and field meet before 40,000 fans at White City Stadium.

ENGLISH GAL MAY ENTER JUAN DE FUCA CONTEST

NEW YORK (CP)—A New York advertising and public relations firm said today an English swimming star has challenged the long-distance laurels of Marilyn Bell of Toronto, Florence Chadwick of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Winnie Roach Leuzler of St. Thomas, Ont.

John T. Cunningham of Anderson Cairns, Inc., said Brenda Fisher of Grimby, England, would meet any of the three at a time and place of their choosing.

He said final prize in such a race across either lake or channel might exceed $10,000. Miss Fisher won the women's sections of the International Channel race in 1951 and 1954.

Miss Fisher, daughter of a sea captain, trains on fish and chips.

At Aux Cayes, major town

(pop. 20,000) on Haiti's southwest peninsula, unofficial reports indicated 200 persons dead, 350 injured and 800 homeless.

The nearby town of Jeremie was almost totally destroyed. The toll of dead and injured there amounted to 200.

Jeremie's prison hospital was swept away. Homes of nuns and priests were washed into the sea. Most of the town's smaller homes were flattened by huge waves.

The hurricane lost some of its force over Haiti but weather observers warned the force of the blow might build up again over open water. The Bahamas Islands battered down as far north as Nassau.

Five-Cent Raise Won by Shipyard Men in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—A five-cent wage increase plus improved vacation, sick leave and other fringe benefits have been won in the first contract this year to be signed with a Vancouver steel shipyard, union officials said today.

The agreement is between the Marine Workers and Builders Union (C.I.O.) and Allied Builders Shipyard, engaged mainly in naval ship building and repairs.

Union president Bill White said the new contract calls for a new annual vacation pay of 4 per cent of earnings up to five years' service, 5 per cent for five to 15 years and 6 per cent thereafter.

Negotiations with other yards are continuing.

$20,000 Fire In Kimberley Business Area

KIMBERLEY (CP)—Fire believed started by hot ashes in a cafe early Tuesday caused damage estimated at $20,000 in a downtown business block here.

The blaze started in the Elite Cafe, burning out the back of the building and upstairs rooms, and spread to adjoining Faulds Block.

Firemen helped remove some persons sleeping in rooms above the cafe and others were awakened by the cafe owner.

Five other business places were damaged, all being gutted at the rear. Stock and equipment was damaged by smoke and water.

Hold-Up Men's Escape Route

Marilyn Eiserman, switchboard operator-secretary at the Ridgewood Savings Bank in Laurelton, N.Y., points through hole in plate-glass window made by three men who attempted bank holdup. When a police officer surprised the trio they smashed the window and ran for car. Two of them escaped, but a third was captured.

Police Alter Opinion In Death of Hunter

Investigators Rule Out Hint of Foul Play; Details of Case Must Wait Until Inquest

Investigations by RCMP at the scene of Saturday's hunting tragedy at Sooke have disclosed new facts which may discount earlier police theories of foul play, it was reported today.

Police said that results of their investigation will be disclosed at an inquest, tentatively set for Thursday morning.

Police had indicated Tuesday that a charge might be laid in the case. But headquarters here today said that any charge would depend on the findings of the coroner's jury.

Police meanwhile declined to disclose details other than that they had questioned Jimmy Ducharme, 16, Nelson's hunting companion, and had examined the dead man's body.

Police said that an RCMP autopsy showed the bullet in Nelson's body had pierced his lung before striking the spine. Two .22 calibre rifles were examined. One was unfired, the other had a single empty cartridge. It was not disclosed who owned the guns.

It was reported Saturday that the pair had been hunting in the Muir Creek area near Sooke. At about 3:30 p.m. they had been making their way across the face of a 100-foot cliff.

Young Ducharme said later that Nelson had lost his footing and fell to his death. But a party which carried the body from the woods found the bullet wound while hiking back to the highway.

RCAF Plane Found At 5,100 Feet

PARKSVILLE—The words "no survivors" cracked out from the snow line of Mount Arrowsmith this afternoon as the first definite word on the fate of four persons who vanished Sunday aboard an RCAF Expediter aircraft.

Experienced mountaineers, who spotted the wreckage on the mountain's 5,100-foot level, clambered to the site on the mountain's east shoulder and found all four dead. Helicopters will bring out the bodies.

IDENTIFIED

The ground party which found the wreckage contacted a helicopter by walkie-talkie, and positive identification was made of the twin-engine plane at the RCAF base at Comox.

The scattered plane was found in an area which had been flown over dozens of times during the 200 air-search hours by the RCAF in the course of the three-day hunt. It was partially buried in snow.

The Expediter last radioed in at 1:38 p.m. Sunday 6,500 feet over Lantzville while on a routine flight between Vancouver and Tofino. An RCAF spokesman said it must have struck the slopes of Mount Arrowsmith about 15 minutes later.

ICING

He said the fast drop in altitude during the short run could have been caused by icing of the plane as weather was bad at the time. Another 900 feet in altitude and the plane would have cleared the mountain.

The alpine party was standing by at the crash site and RCAF officials were being flown in to the scene. It is likely bodies will be brought out today.

Bodies when brought out likely will be taken to Parksville. The district coroner has already been notified.

The crash will be investigated by the RCAF's accident investigation branch, but it is still too early to determine when hearings will be held. Branch officers must visit the scene first.

EXPERIENCED MEN

The Bitterlich brothers, experienced climbers, have ascended Mt. Arrowsmith as many as 40 times. They were both hiking at the 3,500-foot level Sunday afternoon when they heard a plane motor "rev" up and then cut out. With them was Fred Zochling, 684 Burnside Road, who described the engine note as "uneven . . . a rising and falling sound . . . then a deep drop in the sound . . . and nothing." They heard no crash or explosion.

Dead are FO L. E. Oppenheimer, 24, of Winnipeg, pilot of the plane whose wife lives in Vancouver; Sqdn. Ldr. R. G. Stibbards, RCAF chaplain at RCAF headquarters in Vancouver; FO Michael Saunders, 22, of Bristol, England, and R. D. Hall, an engineer, of Beau Repaire, near Montreal.

French Design Cops Cesarwath Stakes

NEWMARKET, Eng. (CP)—French Design, a seven-year-old gelding, won the 113th running of the Cesarwath Stakes here today on his fourth attempt.

Starting at 100 to 6 and ridden by Douglas Smith, French Design won an exciting race by three-quarters of a length from the 66-to-1 outsider Earlswood, with Mixed Vermouth, a 20-to-1 chance, two lengths farther away. Thirty-one horses started.

DRIVER SAVED FROM BURNING

TORONTO (CP)—Motorist Gerald Fulton, 38, saved the life of an auto accident victim today by using the fire extinguisher on his street car.

He put out flames lapping at David Bell, 30, as Bell lay trapped in his car.

Bell's car crashed into a tree when it missed a curve. Gasoline caught fire before he could be removed.

Vancouver Police Nab Cheque Artist

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police today charged a 43-year-old salesman with forgery after investigating the man's boast of cashing $10,000 in worthless cheques.

Kenneth Clark Morris, arrested Tuesday, was remanded a week when he appeared before Magistrate Oscar Orr today. Members of the cheque detail said the amount involved was high, but not as high as Morris had said.

Police said they recovered a cheque-writing machine and cheque stamper in Morris' room.

Sarnia Man Held For Slaying of Brother-in-Law

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—George A. Lehtonen, 23, of Sarnia, has been charged with murder in connection with the stabbing early today of Joseph A. Lee, 25, Lehtonen's brother-in-law.

Lee was stabbed on the sidewalk in front of his home and died in hospital.

Police believe the motive was a family quarrel. Lehtonen appeared in court today on the murder charge and was remanded until Oct. 20. He is being held in jail.

Bail of $40,000 In Drug Case

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—A middle-aged couple, whose bail was set at $20,000 each, appeared in district police court here today for preliminary hearing on charges of trafficking in narcotics.

R. W. Brunell, about 45, and Maude Elizabeth Truman, about 40, were arrested when RCMP set up a roadblock about 12 miles south of here Sept. 24.

George O. Stewart, defense counsel, said today he believed that about 400 capsules of the narcotic, valued at $1,600 in the underworld, were seized by police.
